LOWER STATE EXPENSES PUT UP TO PEOPLE

NEW LAWS BLAMED FOR BIG PAYROLL AT LANSING

Lansing, Feb. 24 (AP)—Governor Sigler and State Civil Service Director Thomas J. Wilson agreed today that if Michigan people want cheaper government they must stop besieging the legislature to adopt new programs.

That conclusion was drawn after Wilson reported to Sigler the reason for a gross increase of 5,661 persons in state employment in the past five years.

Wilson said 3,216 of the additional employees resulted from new activities—mostly voted by the legislature. Another 1,469 resulted from heavier work loads.

Improved standards of service or control accounted for 471 more employees, the reduced work week for 218 more and 135 were hired to fill war-time vacancies.

Taxpayers Must Decide

The civil service study was an implied rebuke, at least, to legislative criticism of civil service on the grounds it was responsible for higher payrolls.

Sigler said "the people must soon determine how much service they expect the state to render. The people come here insisting and demanding the legislature pass new laws providing for additional employees. If the people expect us to do all these things, they have got to pay for it."

Both Sigler and Wilson agreed that future legislatures should weigh every request for new programs against their likely cost.

The governor said he thought the civil service survey showed Michigan state payrolls were not "too high."

Wilson said Michigan's monthly payrolls increased 75.6 per cent in the last five years, while they increased 78.9 per cent in New York, 101.8 in California, 77.5 per cent in Pennsylvania, 115 per cent in Illinois, 95 in Ohio, 59.7 in Texas and 61.1 in Massachusetts.

New Services Listed

Michigan, Wilson said, has 34 state employees per 10,000 of population, compared with the 48-state average of 36, and 56 in Pennsylvania, 48 in New York, 45 in Massachusetts, 37 in California and 32 in Texas and Ohio.

On a per capita cost basis, Wilson said, Michigan pays 70 cents.

Bous Wreck School To Hear the Crash

Shreveport, La., Feb. 24 (AP)—An 11-year-old boy and his nine-year-old companion told a juvenile court official they wrecked a grammar school here because they liked "the sound of falling glass."

Their identities were revealed to city officials by the father of the older boy.

Jimmy Valentine, chief probation officer for the juvenile court, said the boys told him they accidentally broke a window at the school Sunday. Then, Valentine added, they broke 149 other windows, entered the school, damaged books, chairs, desks, pictures, and a phonograph, and splattered ink and paint over school records.

Communism Vote Illicit, Catholics Of Milan Warned

Milan, Italy, Feb. 24 (AP)—Roman Catholics of Milan have been warned by their cardinal that a vote for Communism is illicit.

Alfredo Ildefonso Cardinal Schuster, the archbishop of Milan, issued the warning in a pastoral letter published Sunday.

At the same time, he directed the priests of his archdiocese, which includes the heavily leftist regions of Milan, the nation's industrial capital, to deprive Communists of absolution.

"It is gravely illicit," his letter said, "for all the faithful to give their own votes to candidates or to a ticket which is manifestly contrary to the church or to the application of Christian religious and moral principles in public life."

Cardinal Schuster's new orders, made applicable to all "adherents to Communism," directed the priests to fight Communism with every means at their disposal.

The priests were directed specifically to bar Communist flags or emblems from their churches, into which they have been carried during funeral services in the past.

Reds Open Fire

There was no immediate reaction from the Vatican.

Leftists, however, opened fire immediately on Cardinal Schuster's directive. The leftist newspaper, Milano-Sera, published the news under a headline reading: "Schuster mobilizes parishes—Schuster orders that the vote is a sin."

Luigi Longo, the Communist party's vice-secretary, declared in Rome that the cardinal's letter was a violation of an Italian electoral law prohibiting "ministers of cults" from binding their followers for or against particular candidates or tickets.

There have been reports that the church-excommunication might be turned against the Communists. Sources close to the Vatican secretariat of state said such a possibility was not to be excluded and declared excommunication would be used if Communism threatened the church in Rome.

By excommunication, the church expels persons from its membership and denies them the Sacraments.

TEACHERS QUIT IN MINNEAPOLIS

Half of Public School Staff Walks Out In Salary Dispute

Minneapolis, Feb. 24 (AP)—Minneapolis public school teachers struck today for higher pay and a full school year.

The strike was called by the AFL Teachers Federation which represents about half the city's 2,200 public school teachers.

Pickets were posted before some schools shortly before the 8 a. m. (CST.) strike hour. No attempt was made to hold classes.

The city's 99 elementary, junior high and high schools have a total enrollment of 65,000.

Last minute efforts of Mayor Hubert Humphrey, who arrived at midnight by plane from Philadelphia, and Superintendent Willard E. Goslin to avoid the strike failed.

The Federations asked that present minimum annual salaries be boosted from $2,000 to $3,000 and that the maximum for instructors with master's degrees be increased to $6,000 from its present $4,200 ceiling.

Winter Brings Snow And Freezing Rain

Chicago, Feb. 24 (AP)—Rain, snow and low temperatures hit sections of the plains, north central and southern states today while fair weather was reported in most other sections of the country.

New falls of snow in North Dakota measured from two to four inches while light falls were reported in parts of Colorado, New Mexico, Northern Arizona and extreme southern Utah.

A freezing rain extended across northeastern Minnesota, northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan and light rain fell from an easterly wind to North Texas and southward to the middle gulf states.

TRUMAN ENJOYS CRUISE TO CUBA

Very Red Sunburn Picked Up By President In Virgin Islands

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO

With President Truman in the Caribbean, Feb. 24 (AP)—President Truman, fighting a deep sunburn, today aboard his yacht, enroute to Cuba and thence to Florida for a vacation.

He wound up a three-day goodwill visit to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands yesterday.

Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, his physician, worked to relieve a very red burn on the president's face, picked up while driving at the sun around San Juan, St. Thomas and St. Croix. On the last trip yesterday Mr. Truman kept his panama hat pulled down over his forehead.

He said Gen. Graham was using a special ointment on the burn.

There was no word from the presidential yacht concerning official reaction to the latest disorders in Palestine.

The president is enroute to the U. S. Naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba, where, after a brief inspection tomorrow, he will board his plane, the Sacred Cow, for a trip to the naval submarine base at Key West, Fla. He is due in Guantanamo tomorrow.

He expects to spend nine days in Florida combining work with pleasure.

Former Jail Guard At Detroit Accused Of Helping Holdups

Detroit, Feb. 24 (AP)—A former Wayne county jail guard was held by police today after officers said he admitted participating with ex-convict Frank H. Banning in two Detroit holdups.

Arrested yesterday at his home in suburban Dearborn township, Ben P. Parks was quoted by Inspector James Maher as saying he accompanied Banning in the robbery of a theater and a home while he still was employed at the jail.

Parks, 42-year-old father of three small children, was dismissed from his county job Jan. 18 after officers charged him with smuggling blank checks to a prisoner charged with forgery. Police said he admitted the acts.

Banning, a pardoned federal convict, is a police patient at Receiving hospital as a result of a running gun fight with officers last Friday.

ROBBERS GET $10,000

Baltimore, Feb. 24 (AP)—Four men, after overpowering two employees, made off early today with an estimated $10,000 in cash and checks from the historic old Pimlico Hotel, about a block from the race track.

Butane Blast Wrecks Buildings In Arkansas Town; Victims Trapped

Pocahontas, Ark., Feb. 24 (AP)—Five business buildings were leveled here this morning by an explosion believed to have been caused by escaping butane gas, and at 10 o'clock the entire business block was burning furiously.

Two men are known to have been in one of the buildings when the explosion occurred, and several others may have been trapped by the explosion and fire, firemen said. Two could be heard screaming for help and an effort was being made to reach them with a bulldozer.

Dallas Rowden, manager of the city grocery and market, said:

"I was looking right at the stores across the street. Three of them just blew up completely. A grocery store attached to them was badly damaged."

He said he understood one man, Bob Allen, had been rescued from the debris. A couple who operated a shoe shop, he said, escaped with minor injuries.

BITTER FIGHT ON AT POLLS IN LOUISIANA

BOTH SIDES EXPECT VICTORY IN RACE FOR GOVERNOR

New Orleans, Feb. 24 (AP)—Both sides predicted victory today as one of Louisiana's bitterest political feuds reached a showdown at the polls.

Rival candidates for governor in a Democratic runoff primary election are Sam H. Jones, leader of the state's reform forces, and Earl K. Long, who has the support of the followers of his late brother, Senator Huey P. Long.

About 600,000 party members are expected to vote. The winner is assured of victory in the routine general election next April.

It is the second head-on clash between the two former governors. Jones won out in 1940 when Long opposed him with the Louisiana scandals still fresh in the minds of the electorate. Long had succeeded to the governorship upon the resignation of Richard W. Leche. No charges were brought against Long personally but the old Huey Long organization was reeling from the impact of the prosecutions.

Today, Jones is fighting an up-

HOTEL MARTIN GUESTS SAVED

Firemen Carry 40 To Safety In Milwaukee Main Street Blaze

Milwaukee, Feb. 24 (AP)—Forty frightened persons were carried to safety last night as thousands watched their dramatic rescue from the burning, smoke-filled Martin hotel.

Another 100 left by fire escapes and stairways from the 59 year old hotel, located on East Wisconsin avenue, the city's main street.

Eleven persons were overcome by smoke but there were no fatalities.

Dozens of guests were hanging out windows awaiting rescue when firemen arrived. Aerial ladders were pushed up and rescues proceeded swiftly. There was no panic. Some of those trapped by smoke were unconscious when rescued.

The blaze was confined to the basement and first floor of the six-story building. No estimate of the damage was available.

Leaves For School Buildings Approved By Pontiac Voters

Pontiac, Mich., Feb. 24 (AP)—The Pontiac board of education's first major building program in some 20 years had a green light today with the voters' approval of a two-mill tax for a five year period.

Approved 2,722 to 860 in a special election yesterday, the tax will raise $1,200,000 (million) during the five years for school building expansion. The proposition has been placed before voters five times in the last 10 years.

Drizzle Produces Slippery Highways

Lansing, Feb. 24 (AP)—Highways were slippery in Leelanau county and in the western half of the Upper Peninsula as a result of a freezing mist and drizzle, the state highway department reported today.

"It was looking right at the stores across the street. Three of them just blew up completely. A grocery store attached to them was badly damaged."

He said he understood one man, Bob Allen, had been rescued from the debris. A couple who operated a shoe shop, he said, escaped with minor injuries.

A hardware storehouse, a theater and the shoe shop were demolished.

Allen is an employee of the hardware firm, Rowden said, and he and another employee had just entered the storehouse when the explosion occurred.

Jerusalem Blasts Blamed On British

Jerusalem, Feb. 24 (AP)—A Jewish agency spokesman declared today the Jews are convinced Sunday's bombing of Jerusalem's Jewish business district, in which 52 persons died, was engineered by Britons.

"There is no doubt in our minds that the Ben Yehuda (street) bombing was perpetrated by British personnel," the spokesman told a news conference. "It is the essence of such attacks to make it impossible to determine the identity of the attackers, but we are continuing our investigation in the belief they were British."

Arab sources said immediately after the bombing that Arab commandos wearing British uniforms set off the blast.

Jews seemed inclined to ignore the Arab statement, however, and at least six British soldiers were wounded in apparent reprisal actions yesterday. The Palestine police have denied the British were involved in the explosion.

Three-inch mortar shells, which police said were fired by Jews, fell in the Palestine police compound just before noon today. There were no casualties.

Police said the shells came from the Ben Yehuda blast area.

Rifle and automatic fire echoed through the city all morning. A bus hauling bread to beleaguered Jews in a settlement on the outskirts of the city was blasted by a road mine. One Arab was slain and two were wounded during an attack on a Jewish bus.

The unofficial death toll for the communal warfare since the Nov. 29 U. N. decision to partition the Holy Land now stands at 1,379.

BLACK ATTACKS BANS ON BINGO

Attorney General Says State Lottery Law Needs Revision

Lansing, Feb. 24 (AP)—Attorney General Eugene F. Black believes the constitutional ban on lotteries should be revised because it forbids bingo.

Black voiced that argument Monday to a seminar for newsmen at Michigan State college. He spoke in favor of a general revision of the state constitution.

Hitting at the lottery ban, Black said that when it restricts such "local, innocent games" as bingo he believed it was not accomplishing the purpose for which it was intended.

Black endorsed proposals by Governor Sigler to lift the constitutional limitations on the salaries of state officials and legislators, declaring present salaries keep good men out of government.

The small pay given legislators, Black said, causes them to rush bills through without proper consideration to shorten sessions. As a result, he said, the courts and attorney general are burdened with the task of interpreting what the legislature meant to do.

Sen. Taylor Bolts Party To Be No. 2 Man For Wallace

BY HAL COOPER

Washington, Feb. 24 (AP)—Senator Glen Taylor of Idaho has kissed the Democratic party goodbye to become No. 2 man on the Henry A. Wallace ticket.

"I am not leaving the Democratic party, it left me," Taylor told a radio audience last night. "Wall street and the military have taken over."

All the major parties offer, he said, is a choice between "a Republican twiddle dum and a Democratic twiddle dummer."

Taylor said as far as he is concerned that leaves the third party as the place to fight for "the principles in which I believe."

"I'm in this to win," the 43 year old Idahoan told reporters at a news conference after his speech. "I have confidence and faith. I think I'll get to be vice president."

The one-time "crooning cowboy" said he agrees with Wallace that "you've got to believe we can work with Russia—or give up hope and prepare for the end of the world."

"I believe Russia wants peace. She has plenty of territory and material. She doesn't want markets."

If Russia seems to be "trying to spread out," he said, it is because of "fear of the rest of the world."

Reporters who asked Taylor to comment on talk that U. S. Communists have swarmed to the third party got this reply: "I'm glad to have their vote. I'd be glad to have the votes of bank robbers if I can get elected to do what I think is right."

MISSING FLINT PLANE SPOTTED

State Police Snowshoe To Wreckage Where Two Men Crashed

Prudenville, Mich., Feb. 24 (AP)—Snowshoe-equipped state police searchers made their way today into the wilderness southeast of here where a plane carrying two Flint men is believed to have crashed.

Wreckage of a plane was spotted in the area late yesterday by Pilot Ronald Neal, of Tawas. However, darkness and the rough nature of the land held up a search until today.

Dr. Charles W. Murray, a Flint dentist, and Ivan E. Martin, his pilot, have been missing since last Thursday when they took off from Houghton Lake, about five miles from here, after a stay at Dr. Murray's hunting cabin.

Neal said the evidence of a crash was near the sawmill in Midforest Lodge, a landmark in this area.

While troopers directed by Sgt. William Irish of the Houghton Lake state police post headed for the wreckage on foot, Lt. William McQuinn of Selkridge Field reported planes were being flown from the Bishop Airport at Flint to aid in the search.

Palestine Leader Declares U. N. Must Guard Holy Land

Lake Success, Feb. 24 (AP)—Dr. Karel Lisicky declared today Jerusalem would be "doomed" unless the United Nations guards the Holy City effectively after British leaves.

Dr. Lisicky, chairman of the Palestine partition commission, also repeated in a personal appearance before the security council the commission's plea for adequate military strength to carry out partition.

The commission chairman touched off the council's historic debate on Palestine with a special plea for the safety of Jerusalem after the British end their mandate in Palestine. This is expected to be about May 15.

Chiang Meditates Manchurian Crisis

Nanking, Feb. 24 (AP)—Chiang Kai-shek is meditating, in a mountain hideout, China's crisis—a crisis so acute that his naval commander declared the U. S. fleet must stand by to protect northern ports.

A government official, asked to explain Chiang's long absence in one of the most crucial periods in China's history, replied today: "The generalissimo thinks best when he is alone and undisturbed. Kuling (the summer capital) offers a perfect opportunity for such meditations."

PRAGUE REDS CONFIDENT OF QUICK VICTORY

SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY DIVIDED IN CRISIS

BY A. I. GOLDBERG

Prague, Feb. 24 (AP)—A score of Czechoslovak security police, armed with bayoneted rifles, entered the headquarters of the Social Democratic party late today.

The move of the Communist-directed police was not immediately explained. The Communists are grasping for full control of Czechoslovakia.

The Social Democratic party headquarters is on the busy Prikopky, one of Prague's main shopping streets.

Riflemen On Guard

About 10 riflemen remained in the offices of the National Socialist party, whose headquarters were seized and searched yesterday. Most of the party secretariat staff was back at work. The police said they were assigned as a defense guard. They said that similar guards were on duty at Communist party headquarters.

Trade unions staged a one-hour strike at noon as a token of their solidarity with the Communists.

Communist Premier Klement Gottwald predicted victory for his party within hours, or days.

Students and professors, mainly of the opposing National Socialist groups, paraded through Prague shouting anti-Communist slogans in front of the Communist party headquarters. Police directed the traffic and did not attempt to interfere. Streets were stopped only five minutes during the strike.

Resignations Shelved

Until noon, Gottwald had not appeared at President Eduard Benes' office. The president has maintained consistently he could accept nothing but a coalition government. The crisis arose Friday night when the 12 non-Communist members of the cabinet resigned. Benes, however, has not accepted the resignations.

"It may be in several hours, but it will certainly be in several days," the Communist premier said last night at a meeting to form an "action committee" for Prague.

Even as he spoke the Communists, emboldened by a split in Social Democratic rank, pushed for an open showdown. The Social Democratic party has held the balance of power in the nation's four-day-old political crisis.

Benes Under Pressure

President Eduard Benes is under heavy pressure to let the Communists reorganize the cabinet with their own men.

Gottwald's statement came as Social Democrat left wingers accepted an invitation to negotiate with the Communists on forming a new government.

Significantly, the Social Democrats also approved an agreement to join in forming action committees which the Communists hope will supplant the present National front groups. These groups now include anti-Communist parties.

DAIRY FARMERS MEET IN DELTA

Artificial Breeding To Topic; May Lead To Association

The advantages in an artificial dairy breeding program, obtained by organizing a breeding association, will be explained to the dairy farmers in the western area of Delta county at three meetings to be held this week, it was announced today by Joseph L. Heirman, county agricultural agent.

William Lutz, U. P. dairy specialist of Michigan State College extension service, will be the principal speaker.

The meetings will be held as follows: Thursday, Feb. 26, 8 p. m. at the court house in Escanaba; Friday, Feb. 27, at 2 p. m. in the Bank River community hall, and at 8 p. m. in the Cornell town hall.

Need 1,000 Cows
All dairy farmers are invited to attend. Lutz will explain the possibilities of organizing a breeding association in Delta county for the benefit of the farmers and the improvement of their herds.

Artificial breeding is accomplished by shipping the semen of proven sires at Michigan State College to the county for breeding purposes. This assures the high quality of the bulls used, a service that would be above the average most farmers could afford to pay. Farmers with eight or ten cows cannot afford to keep a bull because of the cost, which is high compared with artificial breeding, Heirman pointed out.

Before the artificial breeding program can be started it will be necessary to have dairy farmers with at least 1,000 cows signed up as members of a local breeding association. This number would have to be within a 15 to 20-mile radius of Escanaba to make a full-time job for an inseminator. Farmers can sign up for service to a part or all of their herd. There is a total of 10,000 cows in Delta county dairy herds.

Two In Menominee
The proposed breeding association would have dairy farmers as its board of directors. The program could be started as soon as a sufficient number of members had signed, and an inseminator could be found. This man would have to take an intensive short course at Michigan State College before he would begin his work for the association.

Menominee county now has two artificial breeding associations organized, and several others are proposed in other Northern Michigan counties.

Lutz will speak at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, Feb. 25, at Trenary high school in Schoolcraft county. Clayton Reid, agricultural agent from that county, has invited dairy farmers from the northern section of Delta county to attend the Trenary meeting because it will be closer than the meetings in this county.

The meetings in Delta county have been located in the western section of the county because of the greater number of farms. Other meetings will be held in the eastern section of the county if there is sufficient interest shown.

Briefly Told

Attendance Limited—Because of the limited seating capacity of the school, the Day View Parent-Teacher program this evening will be open only to residents of the school district.

Back Tonight—The Chicago and North Western diesel engine for the "400" will be back in service tonight, on its regular schedule, it was reported this morning by the superintendent's office. The engine failed last night in Milwaukee and was returned to Chicago for repairs. A steam engine has been taking the regular runs and completed the trip last night, on a somewhat delayed schedule.

Delta Red Cross Maintains Four First Aid Posts

Delta County Chapter of American Red Cross maintains and operates four complete highway first aid stations in Delta County, it was revealed today by chapter officials.

The units, equipped with stretchers, bandaging, splints and other first aid appliances, are located at Bark River, Gladstone, Rapid River and Rock. Michigan State Police officers of the Gladstone post, man the first aid unit there, Frank and Richard Campbell are authorized assistants for the Rock area. Rapid River is served by Robert Malnor and Bark River by Ernest Anderson and Fred Lancer.

During March an instructor will be at the chapter office in Escanaba to train new assistants and offer refresher courses for those already certified as advanced first aid trainees. Anyone interested in receiving this training may report to the Red Cross office.

In addition to its highway first aid stations, Delta County Red Cross chapter sponsors a water safety program. Four trained instructors, who have studied in the Red Cross aquatic school, are active in the county program. Joyce Davis, of Gladstone; Margaret McLeod and Kip Gillis, also of Gladstone, and Arthur Peterson, of this city, are responsible for the programs.

During the coming summer two persons from Escanaba and one from the county, to serve Garden, Rapid River and Nahma, will be sent to the Red Cross aquatic training school.

Delta County MEA Meets Wednesday

The Delta County District of Michigan Education Association will meet Wednesday at 8 p. m. in Gladstone high school to discuss the proposed bill for state aid for education. The discussion will be led by George Weingartner, chairman of the legislation committee.

Two proposed amendments to the state constitution will be presented for study: one for extending the bonding period from five to twenty years and another to change the two-third vote to a simple majority in order to increase millage beyond the 15-mill limitation.

The group will also consider having a joint pre-school conference with Escanaba city school teachers next fall.

Immediately after the general session the classroom teachers department will meet for a brief salary-schedule discussion.

Howard Fish of Wells Fined For Drunken Driving

Howard Fish, 29, of Wells, pleaded guilty in justice court this morning to a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He was fined $50 and $8.25 court costs and his driver's license was revoked.

Fish was arrested by city police Monday night after an automobile that he was driving ran into a parked car owned by Bernice Devisse of Marinette. The accident occurred in the 1200 block on First avenue north about seven p. m.

VFW SPONSORS 'MEMORY LANE'

Project On South 23rd Street In Honor Of World War II Dead

A Memory Lane for veterans of World War II extending along South 23rd street from Ludington street south to the intersection with Lake Shore road is being planned by the Escanaba post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, it was announced this morning.

The lane of trees, it is proposed, will be similar to the Memory Lane for veterans of World War I extending east of Escanaba on US-241, which was sponsored by the American Legion.

The committee engaged in this project consists of Marvin L. Coon, chairman; Gerald F. Cleary, William Koppes, Jake Bink and Emerson B. Harvey, treasurer.

Three hundred trees in all, 150 on each side of South 23rd street, will be used, it was pointed out. It is planned to use maple trees and to space them about 75 feet apart.

Friends of World War II dead who would like to contribute toward this permanent memorial are requested to get in touch with Mr. Harvey.

Heart Attack Takes Mrs. Chas. Waeghe, Gladstone Resident

Gladstone—Mrs. Charles Waeghe, 43, of 405 Dakota avenue, died unexpectedly of a heart attack last evening. She was stricken in the office of her physician where she had gone for examination.

Natural gas is believed to have been used in China for light and for evaporating salt brine in 1,000 A. D., being transported through bamboo pipe lines.

Jail Beckons and J. Ramey Walks In

Jessie Ramey, 37, of Gladstone Route 1, presented himself to Undersheriff John Frederickson in Escanaba at 3:30 a. m. this morning and said, "I can't pay, so just lock me up—for 30 days."

Arrested Feb. 8 for driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, Ramey had pleaded guilty in Justice Oliver C. Estenson's court in Gladstone and was ordered to pay a fine of $50 and costs or spend 30 days in jail. In the two weeks following his arraignment he had paid only $5 toward his fine.

"I can't raise the rest of it, so just lock me up," Ramey told the undersheriff, an accommodating official who helped Ramey into a cell and out of his predicament.

Paper Company Foremen To Be Dinner Guests

Forty foremen and other employees in supervisory capacities at the plant of the Escanaba Paper company will be honored at a dinner meeting to be held at the Delta hotel 7 o'clock Wednesday evening upon the successful completion of a several weeks' course in personnel management.

The supervisory employees will receive diplomas at the meeting, and will hear a talk by Andrew Miller, Chillicothe, O., assistant personnel manager of the Mead corporation.

O. V. Mason, who conducted the training course here, will be chairman of the meeting.

The candidates scheduled to appear for initiation tomorrow night with their sponsors are: Major Edwin J. Lee, John P. Gaffney, Edward M. Reynolds, Paul H. Johnson, John Cleary, Edward L. Gravelle, Glenn Caswell, Norris A. Deviley.

LICENSE OFFICE OPEN AT NIGHT

1947 Auto Plates Are Illegal After Saturday

For the benefit of all Johnny-come-latelys among Escanaba motorists—of whom there are quite a few—the state automobile license bureau at 109 South 7th street, First National Bank building, will be open from 7 to 9 Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights in addition to the regular business hours.

Motorists who have not yet procured their 1948 auto license plates are reminded that Saturday night is the absolute deadline. No extension has been authorized by the Secretary of State, and there is no indication whatsoever that there will be an extension, William Ranguette, in charge of the Escanaba office, said this morning. "Come as early as possible this week to avoid the last-minute rush," Ranguette requested, "and when you come be sure to bring your automobile title of ownership, and if you have a prepared application, bring that, too, to save time."

Applications forms have been mailed to 1947 license holders by the Secretary of State department. Motorists who have not yet received them may fill out forms at the Escanaba office.

A total of 1,685,203 major crimes were committed in the United States during 1946, according to FBI records.

QUINN IN CITY COUNCIL RACE

Local Business Man And World War II Vet Is Candidate

Latest to announce that he will be a candidate for Escanaba city council in the April 5 election is Thomas X. Quinn, local restaurant proprietor. Born in Escanaba July 2, 1914, Quinn was educated in St. Joseph grade school and Escanaba high school, and graduated from the latter in 1933. Following graduation, he was employed by the Chicago & North Western railroad as a brakeman until he entered the restaurant business in 1939. He is a veteran of World War II and served in the Navy as a seaman first class. His father was the late Michael Quinn.

Active in civic affairs, "Tom" Quinn assisted in the organization and is a member of the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce. He is now serving as a Michigan state director of that organization. Quinn also aided in founding the barbershop quartet group in Escanaba. He is a member of the American Legion, Knights of Columbus, and the United Commercial Travelers.

McCauley Speaks At Marine Dinner, Sault Ste. Marie

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—Sault Ste. Marie's annual Marine Banquet, becoming a tradition to Great Lakes sailors, will continue next year if the 292 persons attending the eighth annual banquet at Baraga Hall Saturday night have anything to say about it.

Banquet guests were warned by Chairman John G. Zabelka that the annual affair is becoming too much of a load for the committee of three, who have carried its burden now for eight years, and that it needs the support of the people.

The appeal to continue the banquet was given additional impetus by Eugene "Gene" Herman, "Boss" of the Great Lakes, who was his old usual self in recalling the sailing days and characters of yore, and who recited an original verse about Mike Dacey's Caribou. Gene has just recovered from an illness and a siege in the hospital, so his remarks were more brief, but nevertheless as scintillating as they have always been.

"Our human" resources have been neglected, and when this, our last resource, has been squandered, that will be the end of America," William J. McCauley, speaker of the evening and district attorney of Milwaukee, Wis., told his audience.

McCauley said that the United States has been alert and has taken steps to preserve and conserve its other resources, but the human potential has been neglected.

As an example he cited the veterans of our two World Wars, and told a story of a veteran of the first war who, because of economic circumstances, resorted to a holdup, using his service pistol as the holdup weapon.

Lane Use Planning Meet Scheduled in Manistique Feb. 24

Land use planning committees of two more northern counties—Schoolcraft and Chippewa—will go over plans for disposition of undedicated state-owned lands with conservation department representatives this month, and a third meeting with Marquette county land owners may settle finally the twice-debated disposition of lands in three Marquette county townships.

The Schoolcraft meeting will be in the federal building at Manistique February 24, the Chippewa meeting at the court house in Sault Ste. Marie February 25. Of the 12,680 acres to be disposed of in Schoolcraft county, the department proposes adding to state forests or dedicating to other public conservation uses 3,860 acres, selling or exchanging 8,820. Of 22,500 acres in Chippewa county, the department recommends dedicating 15,160 acres to conservation uses, selling or exchanging 7,340.

In the three southern Marquette county townships where local land use planners objected at previous meetings to sale of some state lands, the department, after examination of the area by game men, proposes dedicating two deeryards totaling 2,380 acres. The Marquette meeting will be held in the court house February 23.

are on that gun. He was told at one time to go out and shoot and kill, and a few years later his son was given the same gun and the same message, and yet we have not assumed responsibility for their social well being," he said. McCauley warned that there can never be peace in the world until there is peace in the home, and that in these instances we must start with the small things first.

McCauley devoted a considerable portion of his talk to anecdotes of the Great Lakes and of his experiences as a sailor.

WRITERS SEE DEER PROBLEM

Tour Of Yarding Area Reveals No Margin Of Safety

By James A. O. Crowe
Grayling, Mich., (P)—A group of outdoor writers, showshoeing through over-browsed deer yards in this area, got a first hand picture of Michigan's deer starvation problem.

Based at the Higgins Lake Training School of the conservation department, the writers were led on the tour by Ho Bartlett, department deer specialist.

This resort town is in the heart of the 2,500 mile square area in which winter deaths of deer by starvation were reported last year. Though no deaths have been reported this winter, an on-the-spot survey of the situation shows how one good snow could bring death to fawns, does and weaker bucks. Driving as close to the cedar-choked swamps as possible, the outdoor writers walked several hundred yards in.

The low-lying ground was covered with some 10 inches of snow that glittered in the stray rays of sun penetrating the thick ceiling of cedar boughs.

The cedars gave off their characteristic perfume, but the woods displayed not a sign of spring. The temperature stood at about 15 degrees.

As far as the eye could see in the murky swamp, well trodden deer paths criss-crossed the snow blanket.

Green Growth Gone

Less than a foot wide, the paths permitted the deer to move around the swamp looking for food. But there was the rub.

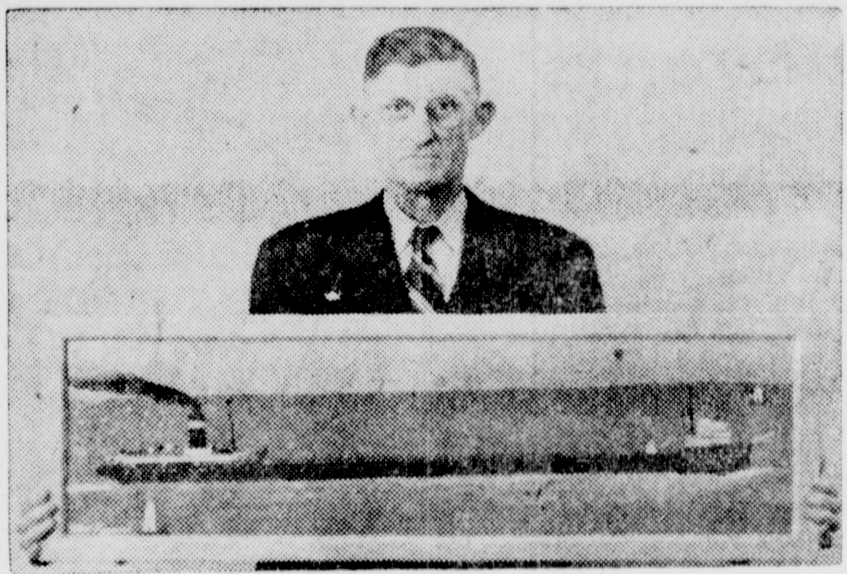

From just about a man's eye level down to the ground as far as you can see, there is not a sign of green. Above this level, the cedar is lush and plentiful, but below it, an ever-increasing deer population has stripped the vegetation clean. To make matters worse, the heavy cover above inhibits the growth of vegetation closer to the ground in the summer.

As matters stand, the snow is not deep enough to imprison the deer in this area in the yards. On the uplands, just outside the yard the writers came on a herd of 13 deer which included some five fawns rooting under the oaks for acorns and finding plenty of evergreens and dried vegetation for food.

The herd, dominated by one large buck, looking somewhat embarrassed without his antlers, looked well-fed and happy. Apparently knowing they could not be shot at, they were less than 300 yards from the road, and a blast from an auto horn only made them look up curiously and move a few yards at a leisurely

USE HARDWOODS FOR PAPER PULP

New Process Developed At Polytechnic Institute

New York.—Paper pulp from southern New England and New York hardwoods is possible with a new process developed at the Polytechnic Institute of Technology, the Technical Association of Pulp and Paper Industries was told here today by Dr. Robert S. Aries of the institute staff.

The process consists of treating the oak, hickory and other hardwoods with soda ash and sulfur dioxide, followed by a method of mechanical grinding. Besides making hardwoods available for pulping, this method, since it involves only mild chemical treatment, results in a much higher yield of pulp than conventional methods of pulping. These conventional methods rid the woods of the greater part of the lignin. Normal pulp yields are about 50 per cent; with the new process 75 per cent becomes pulp. The pulps obtained from hardwoods are particularly suited for making high quality rayons, cellophane and plastics products. There is an extensive oak-hickory area within a few hundred miles of New York.

No 'Go-Between' Is Needed to Purchase State-Owned Land

Lists of the northern Michigan state-owned lands for sale still are available, free if ordered directly from the conservation department's lands division, the department is telling letter-writers this month.

The department has been answering inquiries about postcard advertising of a private agency asking $3 for lists of "Michigan tax lands"—"thousands of acres and lots" available at "$2 an acre and up."

To make the department position clear, lands division officials say emphatically that none of the private agencies advertising state land lists are in any way connected with the conservation department, that the department has very little land on the market at $2 an acre, that there is little farm land, very little water frontage available. No intermediary is needed in buying state lands from the market list; the purchaser simply pays the list price. There are no other fees.

Some of the land available is suitable for addition to existing farms and some is suitable for cabin sites, but the department recommends in every case the buyer see the land with his own eyes before buying it.

Prospective buyers are urged to write directly to the department for land lists that are up to date. Ordinarily buyers need the lists of lands in only one or two counties. When lists for more than five counties are ordered, the department charges 10 cents per list.

Community Property

IF THE TAX REDUCTION BILL that eventually will be enacted by Congress in the current session contains a provision for expanding the community property principle for tax purposes to all citizens, the Michigan legislature should promptly repeal the community property law adopted a year ago.

Michigan enacted the community property law last year solely to permit its residents to attain tax equality with residents of other states where income splitting was permissible by state law. Even now only 12 states, including Michigan, have community property laws and the residents of these states get preferential treatment in their income tax returns.

The community property principle is beneficial only to those with incomes in excess of $5,000 per year. The law permits a husband and his wife to equally divide their income, even though the husband may have been the only wage earner in the family. Each then pays tax on half of the total income, taking advantage of the lower rates in effect on smaller incomes.

The House has already passed a bill providing for the community property principle on tax returns for all taxpayers. The Senate is expected to do likewise. President Truman, however, is reported to be opposed to it and probably will veto such a bill. The question then is whether adoption can be secured over the veto.

Michigan residents are finding some distasteful aspects of the community property law, particularly in probating estates of deceased persons.

Since the state adopted the community property law mainly for the tax benefits, it seems logical to repeal the law as soon as these benefits are assured by federal statute.

Housing Shortage

PRESIDENT TRUMAN commented yesterday that the cost of housing construction these days is so high that thousands of persons who are sorely in need of new homes cannot afford to build them.

Certainly no one will deny the truth of this presidential observation. Housing costs have reached astronomical levels. Even those who can afford new homes at present prices are becoming reluctant to build because of the fear that a home constructed today at 1948 prices may not be worth anything like its actual cost in a few years. Many of these prospective builders are apprehensive that the unpaid portion of their construction loan in a few years may be even more than the value at that time of the home.

The construction industry does not appear to be particularly alarmed about the situation because there are still plenty of jobs in commercial and residential construction to meet the needs of virtually all construction workers. It is or should be, however, of considerable concern to the general public because the housing shortage continues to be the most critical domestic problem in the nation.

The need for more residential construction is not confined by any means to the requirements for more single family dwellings. Multiple family dwellings, such as apartment buildings, are sorely needed for those who desire rental quarters. This is particularly true because so many homes that were formerly available for rental have since been sold to tenant owners. That probably explains why it is so difficult these days to rent either a house or apartment.

This Is Not The Answer

THE SUGGESTION of Attorney General Eugene Black that the state legislature require sportsmen to waive their constitutional rights against illegal search and seizure as a prerequisite to acquiring hunting and fishing licenses cannot possibly be the permanent answer to the conservation department's enforcement problem.

The attorney general's idea, if incorporated into law by action of the legislature, would not stand a reasonable chance of being upheld by the United States supreme court, if in fact it could get by the state supreme court.

It is apparent that any legislation that requires a citizen to yield constitutional rights against his will is illegal. This in substance is the proposal advanced by Mr. Black.

Constitutional guarantees would be meaningless if lawmakers were empowered to deny these rights to the citizenry at will. The proposal advanced by the attorney general is an untenable invasion of individual rights.

The reason for Black's suggestion is well-meaning, of course. He proposes to help conservation department strengthen its enforcement program and to save the state's game and fish stocks from raids by poachers. It is a desirable objective, generously supported by the public at large.

In this case, however, the cure is worse than the disease. If lawmakers can use the licensing privilege to shackle the constitutional rights of hunters and fishermen, it can use the licensing privilege to restrict virtually all of the constitutional guarantees of all of the people. The heritage of individual freedom, the basis for American democracy, will be gone forever.

Different Viewpoints

THE CHICAGOAN who figured out a scheme to beat the slot machines, the so-called one-armed bandits, got away with his thievery simply because the Chicago police operate on a different theory than do the law enforcement officers of the U. S. government.

Delbert Shinn of Chicago was picked up by Chicago police for tripping the jackpots of the coin machines and picking up the loot. His system consisted merely of drilling a hole in the side of the slot machine and then tripping the lever that spills the jackpot. He readily admitted the charge and boasted further that he had tripped jackpots of slot machines numerous in Ohio.

Shinn contended that since the slot machines themselves are illegal, stealing from the slot machines cannot be illegal. The Chicago police apparently concurred in the theory.

Uncle Sam doesn't operate that way, however. Lotteries are illegal in this country, too, but just try to avoid paying income taxes on any money that you may be lucky enough to win in a lottery.

Bootlegging is illegal, too, but Al Capone wasn't sentenced to Alcatraz for bootlegging. He was sentenced for failure to pay income taxes on the money he made from bootlegging.

THIS IS INEVITABLE

(Christian Science Monitor)

"War is not inevitable."
What a tame, half-hearted, negative statement of faith! It implies the probability of war at the very moment it denies the inevitability.

Now comes Arnold Toynbee, whose keen historical vision ranges down the centuries as naturally as a more partial vision revolves around the obsessions of the moment. Not only does he think that conflict is likely only if the United States should wage a "preventive war"—and that is quite out of the question—but he declares unequivocally that world political unity is inevitable.

It is. Sooner or later, with or without war, driven by tragedy or led by intelligence, society must accept a legal world order dictated by the logic of survival—and the nature of reality.

MORE NIGHT BASEBALL

(Marquette Mining Journal)

For a long time after the minor leagues had swelled their gate receipts with night games, the major baseball circuits fought the idea. The new schedules show growth of cash register pressure.

Nearly a third of the home games of the Athletics and Phils this summer will be under the lights, and some other teams are approaching the half-way mark. St. Louis goes beyond that. Attendance figures continue to climb.

Night baseball was introduced in the majors in 1935, when each league permitted seven games. This year 163 are booked, and the listing of postponed games for night play-offs is likely to boost the total.

All of which raises a question. Are the majors heading for night games during the week, with daylight games restricted to weekends and holidays? Could be.

PROBLEM OF POSSESSIVES

Many queer things happened in 1947. One of the queerest was the springing up out of nowhere of such weird possessive forms as "Bess", "Gus", "Lewis", etc. We see such possessives in many publications despite the fact that there is no sanction for the forms.

One or two national magazines carry the unorthodox possessives to ridiculous lengths. For example, in a recent issue of "Collier's" the male character in a story refers repeatedly to the boss' wife.

As everyone knows, an apostrophe is not a letter in the alphabet, nor a syllable. You cannot pronounce an apostrophe. Therefore, when reading aloud, "the boss' wife" can only be read, "the boss wife."

In the first place, a boss wife is a pretty horrid thing to contemplate. Second, no one ever says "the boss wife" when they speak of the boss's wife. No one ever says "Bess new dress" when they mean Bess's new dress. No one ever says "Gus bride" in speaking of Gus's bride.

I may be wrong (and if I am I apologize in advance), but I think that someone with one of the big press services conceived the idea that one should never use apostrophe-s after a word or name ending in "s, z" or "x."

Of course, there is no such rule, as any good dictionary or grammar will attest. People always speak of going over to the Jones's house; of admiring Lewis's new necktie; of meeting Bess's new boy friend; of approving of Congress's decision of being called into the boss's office.

Such possessive forms, in both spoken and written English, are correct and nat-

World Events Analyzed

BY PETER EDSON

Washington. (NEA)—The world's greatest experiment in international cultural cooperation is about to roll. The sponsor is, of course, old Uncle Sugar himself, operating under what's known as the Fulbright Act.

The program is of interest to at least 35,000 American students and teachers who know about and have applied for opportunities to pursue higher learning or teach the American way of life in foreign countries.

Thousands more are expected to apply for these benefits as the program is expanded. And more thousands of foreign scholars, wanting to study in the U. S., will likewise be brought into the picture later on.

For the fiscal year beginning next July 1, it is hoped that grants totaling $4,000,000 can be made available to some 2,000 American and foreign students. The average grant will be about $2,000 a year, but individual grants may vary from $1,000 to $10,000.

When the program is in full operation some 4,000 grants a year may be made at a cost of $7,000,000. The exchange of students and teachers will continue for 20 years, at a total outlay of $140,000,000. In all, 23 countries are expected to take part.

It has taken a year and a half to set up the complicated machinery and start the wheels turning. The original idea came from Arkansas' Sen. J. W. Fulbright. As a young man, he was a Rhodes scholar at Oxford University, England. His new program makes the Rhodes scholarship business look like peanuts.

FINANCED BY SALE OF SURPLUS
The money to finance this huge educational and cultural exchange comes from the sale of U. S. surplus war material in foreign countries where we walked off and left it. Since the purchasing countries don't have dollars to pay for the goods they bought, a way had to be found to spend the local currency in each country. Senator Fulbright proposed that a part of this money be made available to aid American scholars in foreign countries and foreigners wanting to study here.

Agreements covering this exchange have already been signed with China and Burma. Negotiations with the Philippines, Egypt, Greece, Iran, Italy, the Netherlands and Great Britain are now being concluded. Others will come in later.

The job of selecting the American students, professors, research specialists and professional experts who will receive these grants is just beginning. It has been turned over to three non-governmental agencies by the president's 10-man Board of Foreign Scholarships, under Francis Spaulding, New York commissioner of education.

All applications from American graduate students wanting one of these Fulbright grants will be screened by the International Institute of Education at its headquarters, 2 West 45th St., New York, N. Y.

Eventually, it is hoped that there will be regional selection committees in various parts of the U. S. to find the best qualified candidates for the scholarships. Foreign students, selected for Fulbright scholarships in American schools abroad and in this country, will be chosen by a U. S. Educational Foundation set up in every foreign country, with the chief of the American mission there as its chairman.

Selection of American teachers for primary and secondary schools in foreign countries will be handled by U. S. Office of Education in Washington.

"CULTURAL IMPERIALISM"
The Fulbright scholarship plan has been called "American cultural imperialism" by the Communist press in Europe. The impression is given that the U. S. is forcing this exchange of students and teachers on foreign countries. Yet no foreign government is being forced to accept the plan. It's open to those that want it.

In 1939, the U. S. first set up cultural relations exchanges with 16 Latin-American countries. Between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 a year is now spent in promoting this exchange.

Under the Smith-Mundt bill, authorization has been given to extend this program to the whole world. How much money will be appropriated for this work is now under study by Congress.

The spreading of American culture is not, therefore, to be confined to benefits under the Fulbright Act. Teaching the American way of life, and learning about other countries, has become a big business of government, supplementing—not competing with—the private religious and educational institutions that have so successfully pioneered in this work for so many years.

ural. Why write "the boss' wife" when no one ever says it that way?

It is not a matter of euphony, for he who writes "Wallis's new fur coat" would not dream of writing "Wallace's new running mate." He who uses the possessive "Doris's dress" would not write of "Horace's suit."

The possessives should be written as people say them. Read this column tomorrow. The rules will be given as they are shown by our best authorities.

Are you one of those who frequently uses the adjective "bad" when the adverb "badly" should be used, and vice versa? Mr. Colby's leaflet, C-10, explains when and how to use them properly. Tch, Tch, Too Bad!

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

CURFEW TIME — Curfew sounded again in Escanaba at 10 p. m. last night by order of the city council, and was resumed despite previous complaints that it startled some folks out of a sound sleep.

Somehow it has been our belief that no one in Escanaba went to bed before 10 o'clock unless they were ill.

What does "curfew" mean? And where did the first curfew sound?

The word "curfew" is from the French word couvre feu, and means to cover fire. The custom originated as a protection against fire, but in modern use aims to protect children and reduce crime. The first curfew ordinance in the United States was adopted by the city of Omaha in 1880. Its success brought similar rules in 3,000 other cities and towns, some remaining in force, however, for only a short time.

OFF THE STREET — In the Middle Ages everyone, including adults, were supposed to be off the street after curfew. The custom was introduced into England by William the Conqueror. When curfew rang it was a signal for all lights to be extinguished and for law-abiding folks to cease outdoor occupations and go indoors.

In Cromwell's time the curfew must have still been sounding in Merry England, for Rose Thorpe wrote a dramatic poem about the girl who saved her lover by swinging on the tongue of the church bell to prevent its sounding his doom, for he was to die at the ringing of the curfew. The poem was titled "Curfew Must Not Ring Tonight" and was a favorite with elocution students.

AFTER HOURS — In a sense it is reassuring to know that late-hour shenanigans are not new to the world. For a time it appeared as if the younger generation was the cause of all of America's troubles. Now we know that many of our ancestors also stayed out later than they should. In fact, if a poll were taken today, we would probably find that more parents are keeping late hours in unproper company than are their teen-age children.

Perhaps the time may yet come when it will be necessary to revive curfew in its true meaning—a retiring time not only for juveniles but for adults as well. Come such a day we can be sure that we have finally arrived at the ultimate in governmental paternalism. Meanwhile, for the safety and well-being of your youth, curfew will ring. Or rather it will blow in Escanaba, for it is an electrically-powered siren. The gal in the poem would have a hard time hanging onto anything at the steam plant to prevent Escanaba's curfew from sounding.

TOO LOUD AND LONG — According to the city council, the blowing of the curfew signal was halted a year or so ago because folks living near the plant complained the sound disturbed their sleep. To prevent further complaints, the siren will be toned down and sounded only once instead of twice. The city ordinance requires the sounding of a curfew, otherwise it might be possible to dispense with the siren altogether.

Out in Los Angeles, according to a recent press report, curfew is signaled by dimming and then brightening the street lights at

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Blake, Escanaba, route one, are the parents of a son born Feb. 23 at St. Francis hospital.

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Lemmer have returned from a three week visit in Miami, Fla. Personville—Joseph Bartoszek, a junior at St. Norbert's college in DePere, Wis., is on the honor roll for the first semester of the year.

Manistiquette—Harold Wahlm, a student of Chicago Business college, is visiting at the home of his brother, Rev. G. Wahlm.

Gladstone—Fred Schram has returned from Sacramento, Calif., where he was called by the illness of his brother, Frank.

Gladstone — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murray have left for Minneapolis, Minn., where Mrs. Murray will submit to surgery at Eitel hospital.

Twenty Years Ago

Escanaba—William Mashek, a member of the class of 1930 at Escanaba high school, has left for Lake Geneva, Wis., to enroll in Northwestern military academy.

Foster City—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peterson are the parents of a daughter born Feb. 23 at St. Francis hospital.

Manistiquette — Mrs. Lawrence Larson has returned to her home in Marinette after spending two months here with her sister, Mrs. Arthur Cookman.

Gladstone — E. A. Schwan, whose appointment as general agent and yard master here has been announced by Supt. A. H. Mann, has arrived from Stevens Point, Wis., to assume his duties.

the curfew hour. In this way there is no disturbing sound, yet children playing on the street are warned that it is time for them to scoot for home.

IT WAS FUN — Part of our boyhood was spent in a town where the curfew rang as faithfully as an eight-day chime clock. Sundays and holidays, winter or summer, it made no difference to the man who rang the big bell atop the fire station near the city hall.

And when curfew rang at 9 o'clock the kids went home, and from there to bed. You could always depend upon a handout before retiring, but when curfew rang you knew it wouldn't be long before you would hit the hay. Although we complained when the bell rang and we had to break up our game of cops and robbers, or scatter from under the street light at the corner, we nevertheless welcomed the signal. By 9 p. m. we were tired anyway, and the curfew gave us a sound and sensible reason for going home and to bed.

The curfew was ignored by a few boys, we recall, but they didn't seem to be enjoying their illegal hiding in sheds and back alleys. Besides, if they came home late they had a lot of explaining to do or be punished by their parents.

NOT THAT MUCH — There may be some persons who will say, "But times have changed!" They have, but not that much. Children still require parental care. And parents need the assistance of uniform rules to obtain compliance from their children. Curfew applies to all boys and girls under 16, and parents of children in that age group will welcome it.

It is generally accepted as true that the best place for the child is in his own home. Most parents of children under 16 want them to be home by 10 p. m. at the latest. Curfew, therefore, should be helpful to the child, his parents, and to the community.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Hottest report on the political battlefield is that Governor Tom Dewey will swing his supporters to Senator Arthur Vandenberg if Dewey gets caught in a convention deadlock with Senator Taft and can't get the G. O. P. nomination himself.

Despite repeated disavowals of White House ambitions, Vandenberg will have strong "silent" backing at the Philadelphia convention—particularly among the so-called Willkieites in G. O. P. ranks, most of whom are now supporting Dewey, but who are ready to swing to Vandenberg as their second choice because of the Michigan senator's broadgauged stand on foreign affairs.

Those close to Vandenberg, however, insist that he does not want the nomination. The Michigan senator will be 64 years old next month and feels the presidency would be too great a burden, though a recent physical checkup showed him to be in good shape.

Vandenberg is also upset about the health of his wife, who has been ill. He left a Lincoln Day dinner early the other night to rush to her bedside.

Inside betting, however, is that Vandenberg can probably get the nomination, and that he will accept if a deadlocked convention drafts him.

BRASS-HAT PUBLICITY

The House expenditures committee has unearthed new and interesting facts showing that military leaders are talking through their brass hats when they deny they are using public funds to propagandize for peacetime conscription.

There are only 650 trainees at the Army's Universal Military Training camp at Fort Knox, Ky., during a six-month cycle. Yet every week the Army publishes 5,000 copies of the camp newspaper, "U. M. T. Pioneer." Of these, 1,000 copies are distributed at Fort Knox, while the remaining 4,000 are mailed throughout the country.

Unlike the typical camp newspaper, devoted to local news items of interest to soldiers on the post, the "Pioneer" is filled with articles extolling the benefits of compulsory training of American youth.

The congressional committee has also discovered that no other Army enterprise has received as much publicity from Army public relations as the effort to sell U. M. T. to the people. In the last year more than 75,000 U. M. T. pamphlets have been published, 9,150 mimeographed articles and more than 30,000 other publications.

The paper cost of this propaganda blitzard alone amounted to $5,218, congressional investigators have learned.

JUBILANT GOP

News that Henry Wallace's candidate, Leo Isaacson, stole a congressional seat away from the Democratic machine in the Bronx reached one jubilant group of G. O. P. congressmen while holding an off-the-record, round-table discussion. Massachusetts' John Heselton announced the New York results.

"Here's some welcome news for the Republican party," he grinned.

Speaker Joe Martin was so astounded, he asked to have the announcement read again. After thoroughly digesting it, he predicted it would force President Truman to shift to the left.

"I don't think Wallace will come back into the Democratic fold," the speaker added, "unless Truman is replaced on the ticket. And there is no chance for that."

CUTTING THE VETERANS

President Truman hit the ceiling the other day when Rep. John McCormack of Massachusetts, Democratic whip, informed him that the Veterans Administration faced another sizable personnel cut due to lack of operating funds. Dropping this personnel, McCormack warned, would mean a breakdown of vital veterans functions, including disability payments.

"Well, why hasn't the agency asked Congress for a deficiency appropriation?" inquired the president. "That's the usual procedure."

"They can't," replied McCormack, "because the House appropriations committee exacted a promise from VA officials that they wouldn't ask for a deficiency fund at the time the committee approved the agency's regular appropriation for this fiscal year."

For years it has been customary for executive departments of the government which run short of money to come back to Congress later in the year for deficiency appropriations. But the G. O. P. Congress has served notice that "deficit" grants would not be voted. Having long been familiar with this practice as a senator, the president exploded.

"I've never heard of such a thing," he said. "The committee had no authority to do that."

Truman instructed an aide to tell Budget Director James E. Webb to notify the VA to "put in" a deficiency request at once.

"We'll have a showdown on this," remarked Truman, crisply. "It's carrying economy a little too far."

Note — Dropping Veterans Administration personnel, including nurses and doctors in the middle of the year, means that they are almost impossible to hire back again when more money is voted for the new year.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Talking to friends the other day, Speaker Joe Martin confided his real views on the Marshall plan. "If we keep on the way we're going," he snorted, "it (the Marshall plan) will cost us $60 million and we will be broke. Then we might as well turn the country over to Russia."

STRIP-TEASER STIRS CAMPUS

Louisiana U. Magazine
Banned, Editors
In Trouble

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

Baton Rouge, La. — The pre-election strife between Sad Sam Jones and Huey Long's brother Earl has been pleasantly leavened, at least for me, by a more vital conflict between the University of Louisiana and a lady named Stormy.

Stormy is a stripteaser, or peeper, who flaunts her torso in the Casino Royal in New Orleans' French quarter. She flaunts it with such telling effect that she has been the top attraction in the quarter for three years, and it may be said that no student at L. S. U., can consider himself full-fledged until he has been exposed to Stormy.

The captivation finally reached such proportions that the staff of The Pellmell, the college humor magazine, devoted its current issue to a frank interview with the lady. They gave her the entire front cover, and a good portion of the magazine's innards was livened by chromos of the young woman.

This, in itself, found small favor with the university authorities, but the professional blood pressure had not yet bubbled to its full boiling point. The top blew off when Stormy was invited to desert Bourbon street for the campus. Stormy showed up at the school's field house, which was jammed to the eaves. She autographed her picture on the front cover, and Pellmell's circulation leaped a full 5,000. The faculty leaped along with it.

Magazine Was Banned
As the storm over Stormy progressed, they banned the magazine, stopped all sales, and chewed out the entire editorial staff. It is said that a passionate devotion to reportorial assiduity may cause the expulsion of three members of the staff.

If this is the case, there is apt to be a bigger rumpus over Stormy than there was in the recent kissing-ban demonstrations at L. S. U., when a Miss Gloria Heller of Havana, Cuba, got herself in the grease for opposing the faculty's attempt to suppress undue kissing on the campus. A strong-minded young lady, Miss Heller declared that if the spirit moved her, no man, beast or professor could prevent her from saluting the gentleman of her choice, and proceeded to demonstrate her independence. Miss Heller got the heave and the students rose up and threatened a mass walkout for this violation of civil liberty.

Already, it is significant that after the Stormy episode, a fire broke out and one of the college buildings burned down. This is, to date, the greatest tribute to the lady's incendiary talents.

Hails from Philadelphia
Stormy's real name seems to be Stacie Randolph Laurence, and she comes from Philadelphia. She has a fine feeling for the direct quote, as follows:

"I work as hard trying to act my part as I do on my dance routines. People expect me to be sultry and sexy, and I'm afraid it doesn't come natural. But I must get the effect sometimes, because five or six guys, usually with families, lose their heads sometimes."

Concerning Mayor Chep Morrison's attempted cleanup of the French quarter, Stormy was slightly scathing:

He may be trying to clean up the quarter, but the very first time some big dignitary hits town, and Mayor Morrison wants to impress him, he always comes here. I don't get it; maybe it's his idea of a cleanup."

Stormy says she is a light drinker, drinks disgust her, and all she wants to do is ride horseback, stay home and study harmony, music, piano and voice. She says an unhappy marriage has caused her to live an exceedingly restricted social life. She says her customers bore her.

I hope this is not so, because as soon as I get to New Orleans, I intend to catch Stormy's act, and I would hate it if she is bored. If there is anything I cannot abide, it is a stripteaser who fails to show enthusiasm for her art.

City Resident Sees "Flying Disk," May Be U. of M. Cameras

A 30-inch aluminum ball dispatched by University of Minnesota scientists Saturday is floating somewhere around in the Upper Peninsula. That someone in Escanaba should see it is not impossible, as it was last seen 15 miles south of Ironwood.

Mrs. Pearl Pavlick reports that at approximately 8 a. m. Saturday she saw a smoke-colored, round object rather high in the sky and traveling in the direction of the bay. She says the sun was shining at the time and that she watched it until it was out of sight.

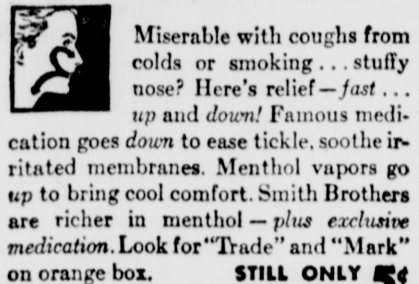

The ball contained two cameras supported by a huge plastic balloon. The sphere was supposed to separate from the balloon by an automatic timing device and descend near Ironwood.

"It was heading for the Stoughton shores when I saw it," said Mrs. Pavlick, somewhat reluctant to have a news story centered around her.

Over 50 Paintings
Exhibited By Art
Class For Adults

Over 50 paintings, predominantly in watercolor, were exhibited last night in Escanaba Junior high school by the Adult Education art class taught by Mrs. Alice Powers. Also in the group were several oils and one pen and ink sketch.

Ten adult students displayed the work, out of a total of 13 in the class. Four of the students have been working with Mrs. Powers all through the four years she has taught.

Mrs. Margaret Cassidy, local artist and critic, discussed the paintings with the students and those at the exhibit. "It is amazing, considering the number of class hours you have, to see the progress Mrs. Powers has made in enabling you to develop a free, bold style of expression," said Mrs. Cassidy.

Plans for a camp meeting this summer have been formulated and all pupils expressed a desire to attend. Mrs. Powers, who expressed her satisfaction with the work accomplished by the group, will again instruct at that time.

Several still-life watercolor paintings of floral arrangements drew comment from visitors and students. Particularly interesting was an oil of a girl's head, done in browns.

Many Original Designs

Those exhibiting paintings last night were Mrs. Signa Carlson, Mrs. Marjorie Anthony, Mrs. Mabel Oslund, Mrs. Edythe Bell, Mrs. Margaret Norton, Mrs. Senia Aasve, Esther Palmer, Mrs. Carol Bennett and Miss Flora LaRoche. Those in the class but unable to be present for the exhibition were Mrs. Carol Novack, Mrs. Mary Lou Ryan and Mrs. Eva Hoyler.

A great number of the displays were of original composition while others were copies of pictures and other reproductions.

Esther Palmer, Mabel Oslund, Mrs. Marjorie Anthony and Mrs. Carol Novack have been in the art class for the four years.

The group will exhibit at a meeting of the Escanaba Woman's club in April. Mrs. W. J. Anthony will be program chairman.

Social Situations

SITUATION: A girl is speaking of one of her close friends.
WRONG WAY: She refers to her as "my girl friend."
RIGHT WAY: She refers to her as "one of my friends," or, "a friend of mine."

SITUATION: You want to be liked by others.
WRONG WAY: Continually flatter those you meet, and agree with all of their expressed opinions.
RIGHT WAY: Be yourself. Express honest admiration, but don't flatter constantly. And don't be afraid to stand up for your own ideas.

Glasses Do Not
Advertise Age

There are women who only half-see the printed page which they read in public because they think that the use of their specs advertises their age.

Not to use glasses for such a vain reason is not only ridiculous but the failure to do so imposes needless strain on eyes.

Perhaps more women who think that to be seen wearing glasses is an implication of age should be reminded that children wear them and so do high school and college students. So, why would a pair of specs perched upon a lady's nose imply that she's "getting along"?

The woman who has been fitted with glasses and wears them when she needs to seems less burdened by age than the woman who should wear specs but doesn't. Squinting at a menu or telephone directory or carrying the printed object to the light in order to read it is more age-betraying than the frank use of specs in order to see what's what.

Gladys E. Bentson
Is Bride-Elect

Of interest here is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dunn, of North Second Road, Rockford, Ill., of the approaching marriage of their niece, Miss Gladys Evelyn Bentson, to Maurice I. Easton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee W. Easton, which will take place Monday, March 1, at 4 p. m., at the home of Rev. O. Garfield Beckstrand, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church in Rockford.

The bride-elect is a daughter of William B. Bentson, of 211 Ludington street, Escanaba.

Attendants at the wedding will be Evelyn's sister, Norma Lee and Gerald Larson.

A reception for 75 guests will be held in the evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Christianson, an uncle and aunt of the bride.

Both young people are graduates of Harlem Consolidated high school. Evelyn is now employed by the American Insurance company and Maurice is with the H. and W. Transfer company.

Memorial Held At Daughters Of Isabella Meeting

Impressive memorial services honoring the deceased members of the organization were held at last evening's meeting of Daughters of Isabella, Trinity Circle, No. 362, at St. Joseph's parish hall.

A table on which were lighted candles, the center candles, red, forming a cross, was the setting for the memorial.

The service opened with a solo, "Panis Angelicus," Franck, sung by Mrs. John Kress, with accompaniment by Mrs. Clinton Groos. Roll-call of deceased members followed, the candle-bearers extinguishing a candle, as each name was called. "O What Could My Jesus Do More?" was sung by a chorus, and a prayer for departed members, led by Mrs. Joseph DeGrand, chaplain of the Circle, closed the service.

The memorial was arranged by Mrs. Albert Valand, Mrs. Jerome Cayen, Mrs. George Jerow, Mrs. Arthur Lauzon and Mrs. Edward Nelson.

Evelyn Van Donk
To Be Bride Of
Dr. Steenbock

Among important weddings of the coming month will be that of Miss Evelyn Van Donk, of Pearl River, N. Y., and Dr. Harry Steenbock, professor of biochemistry at the University of Wisconsin, and noted research scientist, whose engagement was announced at Pearl River Sunday.

Miss Van Donk formerly lived in Wells, and she and her family have visited on numerous occasions with the Van Donsels of Gladstone to whom, they are related.

The wedding is planned for March 6 at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church in New York with Rev. John S. Bonnell officiating, and the couple will live in Madison.

Miss Van Donk has been employed at the Lederle Laboratories as a research assistant for the last three years. She formerly worked in a similar capacity at the University of Wisconsin and for the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation.

Dr. Steenbock is the inventor of the process of milk irradiation to increase its vitamin content and of the process of enriching all foods with Vitamin D. His discoveries led to the formation of the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation in 1925.

He is a member of a permanent national subcommittee in the field of food research and nutrition. In 1934 he was a United States delegate before the commission on biological standardization of the League of Nations.

Vasil Gayef Of Istanbul Tells Of Life In Turkey

VASIL and TODD GAYEF

BY ROSE LACHAPPELLE
"Turkey today has no problems arising from foreign ideologies and is probably the only nation enjoying that security," said Vasil Gayef, of Istanbul, Turkey, currently visiting his brother, Todd Gayef, 504 South Seventh street.

Gayef, manager of a textile printing factory in Istanbul, was summoned to America by the illness of his brother, Gregory Gayef, in Toronto, Canada. Mrs. Gino Gayef, his mother, is at present in Toronto with her son.

This is the first but "definitely not the last" visit in the United States for Vasil Gayef, who has been here the past week. There is much, says the rather portly Turk, that has fascinated him, but inability to converse in English handicaps him, though he is able to use several foreign tongues.

With his brother Todd Gayef serving as interpreter, Vasil Gayef told of the many strides made by his country in democratic government, industrialization and modernization, including that of education. The language of Turkey has been modified, said Gayef, and most of the Persian and Arabic has been substituted by words of Latin derivation. He suggested that he could teach any American the Turkish language in 30 days even though he himself has not studied English. Foreign trade was the greatest stimulation for this revamping of the Turkish tongue, which now has an alphabet similar to other languages.

"With the fall of the Ottoman Empire, Turkey embarked on a program of modernization, which in the past 15 years has developed her into one of the most progressive nations," said the Turkish visitor. "One of the big reasons for the non-conflict of ideolef, and veiled faces and such are not the custom any longer. Women hold office on a par with men and are paid, like the men, in accordance with their capacity. They attend schools as American women do and also may attend special home economics schools where they may learn the usual skills and arts for household management or as a trade.

Most Turkish women do not work as much, especially after marriage, as Americans do.

Food is fairly plentiful and is well distributed, said Gayef. During the war, some areas were caught with shortages but Red Cross organized a package sending system which greatly helped to alleviate this condition.

The Turkish government does not control prices and has no OPA system, said the factory manager. If a disparity exists between income and buying power, the government subsidizes the persons or families affected and also allows them to purchase food and clothes at cost price.

Americans Appear Gloomy
Gayef remarked that the American habit of eating at all times surprised him somewhat, as did also the sober American faces. "Everyone looked as though each had lost a million dollars on the stock market," said Gayef. "Our people are a gay lot and like their song and dance."

Gayef also told of the popularity of classical music in his homeland and said that it can be heard almost any place where an American would be listening to juke-box jazz.

"Turks feel a great affection and admiration for Americans and think of the United States as a paradise. Our ancestors didn't work as hard as yours," said Gayef, "but we too are making our country into a better place to live."

All persons are free to think, speak and believe as they wish, said Gayef. Churches are more numerous than mosques in Ankara, the capital. All religions are tolerated and accepted, though Islam is predominant. In the case of marriages, the government requires a civil contract after which persons are free to have their vows solemnized in any faith.

During the war Turks provided canteens offering free meals and entertainment for U. S. military personnel. Todd Gayef, who seemed to thoroughly enjoy translating for his brother, said that Turkish kitchens are a "gourmet's delight." Vasil Gayef says Turkish cooking is superior to American, and much on the same order.

Todd Gayef, married to an Ann

Arbor girl and father of two children, came to the United States 10 years ago to study in the University of Michigan, from which he holds his master's degree in electrical engineering. The U of M. is a well-recognized and famous school in Turkey, said the brothers.

Making Industrial Progress
Later, while on his month's stay here, Vasil Gayef will travel with his brother to see more of the United States, especially the large cities with their industries. Turkey is not the backward country it used to be," said Vasil Gayef, who plans to return here in a few more years. "Our chief industry is agriculture, but we are making much progress industrially."

Interesting variations of the two cultures were discussed by the brothers, both of whom commented on American disregard for age. In Turkey, it would seem the oldest person in a group is accorded first courtesy, regardless of sex. Other points were the business of paying checks when the articles are served, rather than when one leaves the establishment and the Turkish custom of inviting others out with one. The host for the evening pays all bills, and for another to volunteer to pay for any is not only a grave social error but an insult to the host.

Also "Turkey has no middle class—one either has money or doesn't. Lack of it does not inhibit a happy life, however," said Gayef.

Rapid River

Pancake Supper
Rapid River, Mich.—The men of the Congregational church are serving a pancake supper at their parish hall on Wednesday, Feb. 25. Serving will commence at 5:30 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend. Sausages and eggs will be served with the pancakes. The committee in charge is Jim Jay, Bob Olson, Howard Kuehn, Myron Whipple, Leslie Caswell and R. P. Bowers. Proceeds from this supper will be used for improvements to the parish hall.

Lions Club And P. T. A.
Thursday evening, Feb. 19 a joint meeting of the local Lions Club and the Parent Teachers Association was held in the high school gym. The Lions supper was served on the stage by the P. T. A. ladies, after which the meeting was held. Mr. Joseph Gucky of Stephenson, was the speaker of the evening. At the opening of the meeting, three selections were sung by Irving Johns, director of music in the Gladstone schools. He was accompanied by Mrs. Johns. Mr. Gucky, in his talk, presented the subject of reorganization of school districts, consolidating several townships into one for the purpose of putting in their school system, vocational work and other subjects which are not available in the present system. These subjects would be of material benefit to the community in general, and to students of the sixth grade and up. Mr. Gucky used as an illustration the Stephenson school system showing how the school and community have benefited by these principles of reorganization. After his talk the meeting was thrown open to questions and discussions. There were many questions asked on how the reorganization could be applied to our area, which would be Masonville, Ensign and Bay de Noc townships. A large attendance from the three townships interested was present. Mr. Hagel Quamstrom, superintendent of the Delta county schools and members of the Delta county school board were guests at the meeting.

Personals
Mr. and Mrs. Chester Papineau and grandson, Gary Duff of Hermansville, were guests Sunday at the Homer and Oren Papineau home and also visited Mrs. Homer Papineau who is a surgical patient at St. Francis hospital. Mrs. Louis VanDamme, of Gladstone, spent Sunday at the Oren Papineau home. Mr. and Mrs. Eli Lampi, of Eben Junction, visited Friday at the home of Mrs. Matilda Caswell. Mrs. Kurt Soderberg and little daughter have been dismissed from St. Francis hospital. They are staying at the home of Mrs. Soderberg's mother, Mrs. Dan Oberg until Mrs. Soderberg is stronger.

WINDOW IN THE NIGHT

A friendly beacon shining through the darkness of night, the lights of the telephone exchange are never dimmed. At any hour the telephone is ready to carry your messages, do your errands, summon aid in an emergency.

Behind the telephone are the men and women of Michigan Bell—operators and office workers, clerks and craftsmen, indoor and outdoor workmen. They keep a big company functioning as a single unit at a flash of the signal from your telephone.

There is a very real spirit of service among Michigan Bell folks. It is based on belief that public service is a high calling. It is fostered by the knowledge that opportunity to advance in the business is open to all—because promotions are based on merit and are made from within the ranks.

So it is not surprising that most telephone men and women think of their work as a career—something more than just a job. For you, that means efficient and friendly telephone service of constantly increasing value.

Governor Outlines Changes Planned In State Constitution

New York, (AP) — Michigan's Gov. Kim Sigler outlined his plans for a proposed revision of the state constitution to a group of governmental experts here Saturday.

Sigler said he would propose that these main amendments to the constitution be placed on the November, 1948, ballot:

1. A four-year term for all elected state officials.
2. A removal of salary limitations from the state constitution for all elected state officials, not to include incumbents.
3. Revision of the constitution

Q. Is it true that a bill was introduced in Congress to permit veterans to form associations for the purpose of building houses?
A. Yes, The bill (H. R. 4821) was offered as an amendment to the GI Bill. It was referred to the "Veterans Homestead Act of 1948."

Q. Who was named the "Bowler of the Year"?

A. The National Bowling Writers Association named "Buddy" Bomar of Chicago, who won $17,400 in bowling tournaments during the 1946-1947 season, as the "Bowler of the Year." In a nation-wide poll, with 109 sport writers participating, Bomar tallied 843 points.

Q. What was the heaviest rainfall ever recorded in the U. S. and when did it occur?

A. The heaviest rainfall totaled 15 1/2 inches and lasted for 6 hours (6:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.). It occurred on June 19, 1947 and flooded low sections of Lake Charles, La. The previous 6-hour tall record was 14.16 inches at Taylor, Texas in 1921.

Q. Why were there so many accidents during the war years on the railroads?

A. Because of enormous increases in traffic, inexperienced personnel, overworked equipment and roadbeds, and lack of appropriate mechanical signals. In 1945 railroad accidents reached the peak of 16,892.

YOUNG AND OLD ARE GOING WEST

Population Of Pacific Coast Rises 40% In Seven Years

Washington — Not just young men, but also young women have been going West and staying there. Older people have also headed for the Pacific Coast.

The number of people living in the Pacific Coast states increased 40 per cent in little more than seven years—from the time of the Federal Census in April, 1940, to the middle of last year, latest date for which figures are available.

This means that 3,892,000 more people were living in California, Oregon and Washington in July, 1947, than at the beginning of the decade. The increase is about 45 times that of the United States as a whole. It represents a third of the total gain for the entire country during this period.

California alone added nearly 2,909,000 people to its population, figures of the Bureau of the Census indicate. This gain was greater than that for any other state.

The Los Angeles Metropolitan District alone grew by more than 1,000,000, the increase for this city alone being twice as much as that shown by the states of Washington or Oregon.

Although some of the gain in population is undoubtedly due to the large baby crop in the war and postwar years, most of it represents an influx of people from the older farm and industrial areas, statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company point out.

The East South Central and the West North Central sections of the country, in contrast, in 1947 had about the same number living there as in 1940. The Dakotas, in fact, showed a loss of population, continuing a trend noticed previously.

Four Councilmen May Be Recalled

Hamilton, O. — (AP) — A citizens' committee has announced it will circulate petitions to recall four councilmen who voted to suspend City Manager Frank R. Buechner. Buechner, resigned the city manager post at Superior, Wis., 16 months ago, to become city manager here at a salary of $10,000 per year. He recently was suspended by a four to one vote of the city council.

Two other councilmen refused to vote.

A statement issued Saturday by the committee seeking Buechner's reinstatement declared that "it is extremely doubtful if any evidence produced at a public hearing would have even a slight effect toward reversing the vote of one or all of the four councilmen who perpetrated this act against fair play and moral right."

A hearing has been set for March 17 on charges that Buechner failed to display leadership, failed to comprehend the city's problems, had poor judgment and aligned himself with factional interests. Buechner said his suspension resulted "from an honest effort to enforce the laws against organized vice."

4 Inebriates Cause Commotion On Bus

Four inebriated lower peninsulans were removed from a Greyhound bus at Rapid River Sunday by Michigan State Police of the Gladstone post. They were causing a disturbance, the driver complained.

The quartet, namely Richard Laplaint, Arthur Lammio and Laur Boileau of Cheboygan and John Oviatt of Highland Park were charged with being disorderly persons and upon entering pleas of guilty in justice court were each fined $5 and assessed costs of $3.35.

Mrs. Nels Wickman Is 89 Years Of Age
Mrs. Nels Wickman celebrated her 89th birthday anniversary on Feb. 19 at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Axel Larson at 915 Dakota avenue.

In addition to the Larson family, a daughter, Mrs. Sam Bergstrom, and a son, Gunnard Wickman and Mrs. Wickman of Iron Mountain were also present.

Mrs. Wickman received many gifts and telegrams and messages of congratulation. She was even remembered by a niece living in Falen, Sweden.

Place Perkins Man On Long Probation

Pleading guilty to assault and battery upon the person of his daughter, Charles Kinnart of Perkins was yesterday given a 30-day suspended jail sentence, assessed court costs of $3.35 and placed on 6 months probation by Justice O. C. Estenson.

Officers were told that Kinnart came home intoxicated and forced his 19 year old daughter from the family home at 4 o'clock in the morning when she remonstrated with him.

ROTE SPEAKERDiscusses Industrial Relations At Monday
Dinner Meeting

Industrial relations, as carried on between the Mead Corporation and its employees was the theme for a discourse by Andrew Miller, of Chillicothe, Ohio, at the Monday noon meeting of the Manistique Rotary Club.

Dealing with factors that contribute toward good relations between employer and employee, he stated that the Mead corporation does not oppose unions but it is the desire of the company that the union represent the employee to the fullest extent.

Mr. Miller is with the industrial relations department of the Mead corporation. He was introduced by Roger Smith, chairman of the Rotary program committee.

Russ Zone Waifs

Basel, Switzerland. (AP) — A group of 445 German children from the Russian zone of Germany arrived here recently under a large scale convalescent scheme organized by the Swiss Red Cross. The children were the first to arrive from the Soviet zone, although the scheme has been operating from the western occupation zones almost since the end of the war.

PAPER MILL GROWS — Something of the magnitude of the Manistique Pulp & Paper Company plant is revealed in this striking birdseye view of the mill, the flume and the huge piles of pulpwood that supply it with its most important basic material. Newest additions to the mill are the huge wing to the left (with four ventilators on its roof) used chiefly as a warehouse; and the Barker room, just to the left of the flume, which went into use for the first time this week. The piles of pulpwood shown on this side and beyond the city water tower, are about half a mile in length and contain about 1,500 cords. The sharp angle at which the flume turns at River street, will be a revelation to many residents—even old timers, who have always been of the opinion that the flume followed a straight course from the upper dam to the mill. The photo was taken by F. W. Pinkerton, of the C. R. Myers Construction Company, of Oshkosh, which has had the contract for the last two large construction projects for the company.

Girl Scouts Are Selling Cookies
To Raise Funds

Manistique residents are requested when asked by members of the Girl Scout or Brownie organizations if they wish to buy some cookies to give their answer in the affirmative. Local Girl Scout organizations here are taking this means of raising funds to pay for next summer's outing activities.

The girls are taking orders at present and the cookies will be delivered on March 12, the anniversary of the launching of the Girl Scout movement.

Mrs. W. J. Sheahan, who is assisting in the direction of the solicitors, states that the cookies are of a commercial variety and their quality is vouchered for. Each cookie will have the Girl Scout insignia stamped upon it.

The sale of cookies is the only money raising activity of the year for the organization and for that

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

WEEKEND CHIT-CHAT: All this talk about the size of grooves in professionals' golf clubs leaves us more than a little cold. . . PGA members arguing openly about club facings and playing rules is not unlike a group of 12-year-olds arguing about whether so-and-so fudged the last time he shot. . . Bobby Locke, the South African of quiet demeanor, surprised us no end when he complained about facings on four of Fred Haas' clubs after Fred had shot a 67 in New Orleans. . . Young Fred proceeded to file them to suit Locke's fancy and shoot another 67. . . Bob Hamilton, incidentally, won the New Orleans meet with a brand new set of clubs after disposing of his so-called illegal old clubs. . . And listen to National Open Champion Lew Worsham: "It's the way you hit the ball that counts, not the grooves. Grooves are supposed to give you back spin and help control your distance, but if a man can hit straight with grooves and make the ball stop short, he can hit straight without them and let the ball roll up."

Joe Lewis is rapidly losing prestige by his stand on return bouts with Jersey Joe Walcott. . . Walcott has agreed to 20 per cent for their next bout, but the clause requiring a 30-30 split in a second return bout should Louis lose their next fight is a bit unfair. . . As champion, Walcott would be entitled to a champion's share. . . When Jack Dempsey first fought Gene Tunney, he received $718,000 to $200,000 for Tunney. . . Tunney as champion in the return bout received a record $890,445 to $425,000 for Dempsey. . . Where does that leave Jersey Joe?—In Joe Louis' back yard knocking on the door asking for a handout!

A lot of new faces were seen at the fairgrounds indoor rink Sunday afternoon when that maestro of the ice, 69-year-old Pete Dube, skated an amazingly fast two miles to gain half a lap on each of his opponents, Carl and Fred Lueberg and Wallace Kemmer, and the Escanaba Hawks lost a fast, interesting game to the Newberry Bunyans, 5-4. . . The Hawks are trying their level best to bring good hockey to Escanaba and deserve your support.

If you enjoyed Sunday's program, you will enjoy even more the game here Thursday night between the Hawks and the Gladstone Indians and the clash here next Sunday afternoon between the Hawks and the league-leading Marquette Loons. . . Lots of natural rivalry there. . . Babs Petaja's puck chasers are determined to avenge league defeats at the hands of the Indians after whipping them twice in pre-season games and they are equally intent on upsetting Marquette. . . Keep those two dates in mind.

Ironwood has an active junior hockey program underway. . . Its Twin City Hawks play Rhineland, Wis., high school sextets and other junior teams in that end of the U. P. . . Persons interested in construction of a community building in Escanaba that would include an artificial ice rink for figure skating, hockey and speed skating, an indoor swimming pool, basketball court and auditorium for educational, cultural and entertainment use will be interested in hearing that Marquette has taken the first big step toward procuring artificial ice at its Palestra. . . The Shiras Institute has donated $12,500. . . A like amount is being raised by popular subscription. . . And when that amount is raised, the city will be requested to match the $25,000 for construction of a $50,000 artificial ice plant at the Palestra. . . That is small potatoes beside the American Soo's $200,000 Pullar Stadium and the Canadian Soo's proposed $600,000 community building, but it will serve the purpose adequately. . . American Soo is the only city in the Upper Peninsula with artificial ice. . . Marquette probably will be second. . . Wonder where Escanaba will place.

Eleven Escanaba riders are entered in the big Iron Mountain ski tourney next weekend. . . They are John Gredesky, Ted Belfry, Walter Alexander, Fritz Pohlmann, Pinky Anderson, Ed Morrison, Spud Millmaki, Ken Warner, Reno Kenninen, Hank Strand and Mal Brown. . . Warner and Millmaki both fell while practicing at Ishpeming and decided to save themselves for Iron Mountain rather than compete Sunday. . . Ninety-one riders were entered in Class B at Ishpeming, and Escanaba had three men in the top 15. . . Not too bad for a first-year club!

Madden Lost To Braves For Rest Of The Season

Gladstone, Feb. 24—The Braves game against the Graverets of Marquette last Friday night was doubly costly for Gladstone for Doug Madden, who has been playing a stellar game at forward this season, sustained injuries that will sideline him for the remainder of the season.

Madden was dribbling in fast under the basket for a shot in the third period when he was fouled

ESKYMOS PLAY FLIVS THURSDAY

Game Advanced A Day; Rouman To Attend State Meeting

The Escanaba Eskymos will wind up their regular schedule against Kingsford on the latter's court Thursday night instead of Friday night, it was announced yesterday by Coach Jim Rouman.

The game was moved ahead one day because the Escanaba basketball mentor has been called to Lansing by Charles E. Forsythe, state high school athletic director, to attend a meeting of state high school track and field officials Saturday morning.

Rouman is required to attend the meeting because Escanaba, for the second straight year, will be host to the annual Upper Peninsula high school track and field meet here in Bay. Plans and policies for this and other state events will be discussed at the Saturday session.

The Eskymos are determined to chalk up a win at Kingsford Thursday to boost their season's record to six wins and eight losses and to get into a winning stride for tournament play to follow next week.

By his showing in the Manistique game last Friday, Ron Johnson, erstwhile football quarterback, has won himself a starting assignment for the Kingsford game. Johnson's presence gives the Eskymos much-needed additional height.

Dick Lough is back in shape after suffering a mouth injury that kept him out of the Manistique game. He will pair with Gary Abrahamson at guard, with Warren Gustafson at center.

Hirn and Johnson at forwards in the probable starting lineup for the Kingsford battle.

Hirn and Abrahamson were standouts in the Manistique victory. Both played steady ball throughout. Hirn was particularly effective as a feeder on quick pass-back plays, and his defensive game was greatly improved.

Chappuis May Play For A Weaker Club

Cleveland, Feb. 24 (AP)—If the all-America conference can talk Halfback Bob Chappuis out of signing with Pittsburgh of the National league, the Michigan star probably will tote the pigskin for one of the junior loop's weaker clubs.

Last night the Cleveland Browns, all-America conference champions, traded draft rights acquired for Chappuis in 1946 to another club for players to be named later.

The club acquiring the chance to sign the backfield ace of the Big Nine and Rose Bowl champions of 1947 was not named. However, Coach Paul Brown said the trade was made to "strengthen the overall league structure."

That, Brown said, earmarked Chappuis for the Baltimore Colts, Chicago Rockets or Brooklyn Dodgers—provided, of course, the halfback turns to the junior loop from the Pittsburgh Steelers. They have had four or five meetings with him and still hope to sign him.

The average speed of a golf ball during a flight upwards of 200 yards is approximately 65 miles an hour.

Iron Mountain, Feb. 24—Ski-jumping's burning question—"Can Art Tokle, 25-year-old Norwegian, break the American distance record of 289 feet set by his heroic brother, Torger?"—will be answered here Saturday and Sunday when a twin classic will be staged on Pine Mountain, world's highest artificial ski slide.

Art, who has established himself as the No. 1 leaper in America since his arrival seven months ago, today filed his entry for the Torger Tokle Memorial tournament on Saturday, Feb. 28, and the annual Kiwanis meet on Sunday, Feb. 29. He is recognized as one of the jumpers most likely to produce the first 300-foot leap in American history off the improved giant slide.

In 1942, his brother, Torger, in his last big meet before he marched off to war to be killed by a German mortar shell, roared down the Pine Mountain chute for the current American record of 289 feet. He over-jumped the landing hill by 19 feet.

Art, in his attempt to win a handsome Torger Tokle trophy, will have the benefit of a landing hill increased 50 feet in length by excavation of 10,000 cubic yards of earth. Safe jumps of over 300 feet are now possible for the first time in U. S. ski history.

The 25-year-old potential successor to the distance crown isn't quite as sensational as Torger was, but Art hasn't let any grass grow under his feet. In a Midwest tour, he captured five first places in six meets and broke two hill records.

His season's records stand at eight titles in 10 meets. It eclipses by far the record of any American performer during the 1948 season. Last Sunday at Brattleboro, Vt., he outclassed a field including the great Reidar Andersen, Norwegian stylist, and Mezze Barber, eastern professional.

The late Torger compiled a phenomenal record in four short years. He competed in 44 tournaments, won first place in 39 and established 22 new hill records. He was never outjumped.

Unquestionably, Art Tokle is good. Whether he is good enough to keep the American record in the Tokle family remains to be seen. At least half a dozen American aces planning to enter the two-day classic are candidates for the exclusive 300-foot club. Even several riders in the class C division—18 years and under—are tebed as threats to smash the record.

Competition will be unusually keen. Even Mrs. Dorothy Graves Mucha, of Greenfield, Mass., only woman jumper in America, will be trying to outdo the men. She outjumps about half of the Class A riders.

35 Kayos Yesterday As Golden Gloves Tournament Opens

OSTERTAG WINS

Chicago, Feb. 24 (Special)—Morley Ostertag, Canadian Soo, Upper Michigan and Milwaukee zone 126-pound champion, won his first round match in the finals of the Golden Gloves here last night. He defeated David O'Leary, Twin Falls, Idaho, Joe Burnette, Canadian Soo, U. P., and Milwaukee 112-pound titlist, who complained of a severe pain in his right side before the fight, was obviously not at his best in losing to Johnny Pacheto, Minneapolis, in a first-round match.

Chicago, Feb. 24 (AP)—The big boys take over the 21st Golden Gloves at Chicago Stadium tonight with a knockout pattern well established by the little guys last night.

Thirty-five knockouts were produced last night as the four lighter weight divisions—flyweight, bantamweight, featherweight and lightweight—were trimmed to quarterfinal size for Wednesday night's windup of the current three-night competition.

Another four and a half hours of slugfing is scheduled in three rings tonight as approximately 120 bouts reduce the field of heavyweights, light heavies, middleweights, and welterweights to eight survivors in each class.

LOPAT TO YANKEES

Chicago, Feb. 24 (AP)—Ed Lopat, who topped the Chicago White Sox pitching staff in 1947 with 16 victories, has been traded to the New York Yankees for Catcher Aaron Robinson and two rookie pitchers.

U-M SWIMMERS WIN

Minneapolis, Feb. 24 (AP)—Bill Uthegrove led his University of Michigan swimming team to a 52-42 victory over Minnesota tankmen last night, winning the 200-yard breaststroke and pacing two relays.

TECH TIPS COLORADO

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 24 (AP)—Michigan Tech's hockey team, which shut out Colorado college 4 to 0 last night, will be gunning for a repeat win tonight and an even break in the squads' four-game series.

Arthur Sacy Has Fight Mob Gaga!

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—The fight mob is here for tonight's Willie Pep-Mumberto Sierra tussle, but the fighter who really has the managers drooling is a college boy. . . He's Arthur Sacy who does his punching for the University of Miami and never has been beaten in two years of college boxing. . . Sacy, a tall, handsome 23-year-old heavy-weight who reminds the fans of Max Baer without the clowning, won the National Collegiate title as a freshman last year and has kayoed four of his five opponents this season. . . Since college bouts (never call them fights) are limited to three two-minute rounds, that's an impressive feat. . . Coach Billy Regan, who also is secretary of the local boxing commission, figures Art could handle himself in pro company any time he wants to try it.

No Secrets, Please

Playing in a charity exhibition Sunday, Fat Freddie Fitzsimmons—who'll be made a "citizen" of Brooklyn Thursday in spite of the fact that he's now a Braves coach—swung at a curve ball and dribbled a weak roller to the infield. . . puffing back to the bench after galloping toward first, Freddie remarked: "I've been playing ball for 25 years and they always keep throwing those things at me. The word sure gets around, doesn't it?"

One-Minute Sports Page

Willie Pep, one of the busiest boxing champions on the list, apparently isn't going to run out of opposition soon. . . only yesterday Manager Lou Viscusi received a wire from Father Cotter of the Los Angeles Catholic Youth Organization making a date to discuss a possible title bout against Carlos Chavez with the CJO benefitting Viscusi. . . Viscusi previously had a $35,000 offer for a Los Angeles fight. . . Sun-worshipper Joe DiMaggio, who spent most of his week-end here moaning because he didn't have this good hot weather when he took a Florida vacation last month, tried his throwing arm Sunday for the first time since he had some bone chips removed last November. Joe reported it felt fine, but he didn't have to throw hard.

Sand in Your Shoes

Eddie Houck, former Miami U. boxer and football player and son of Leo, Penn State's boxing coach, will confine his punching to a typewriter hereafter. Eddie recently took a job on the sports desk of the Harrisburg, Pa., Patriot. . . Mrs. Roma Scott, who'll travel all the way from Anchorage, Alaska, to Dallas, Texas, to bowl in the Women's International Bowling Congress tournament in April, will be 82 years old by tournament time. She reports her bowling didn't begin to slump until she was 79 and then her average dropped from 169 to 139. Who said the fountain of youth was in this state?

Wagner Observes Birthday No. 74

Pittsburgh, Feb. 24 (AP)—Honius Wagner, the man who couldn't quit baseball, celebrated his 74th birthday today by carving an 18-pound turkey and preparing for his 37th year in the National league.

Close friends of one of the game's greatest shortstops joined him in feasting on the big fowl presented by a Wagner admirer of 50 years standing—oil millionaire Mike Benedum.

Then the "Flying Dutchman," who batted an average of .329 over 21 big league years, finished packing his luggage for a trip to the Hollywood, Cal., training grounds of the Pittsburgh Pirates. At the movie capital, the barrel-chested Buc coach will continue the job of tutoring youngsters he began in 1932.

SPARTAN GRAPPLERS WIN

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 24 (AP)—The strong Michigan State College wrestling team marked up its seventh straight victory by downing the University of Michigan matmen, 19 to 8, last night.

U-M QUINTET TIPS PURDUE

46-35 Victory Assures Wolves Of At Least A Title Tie

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 24 (AP)—Michigan needs only a victory over Ohio State Saturday to be sure of at least a share in the Big Nine basketball crown.

Then if the Wolverines can whip second-place Iowa next Monday, they will have their first undisputed conference championship in nine years.

The Ann Arbor quintet moved a step closer to the coveted title last night with a 46 to 35 victory over Purdue. Playing deliberately and displaying expert ball handling, the Wolverines took an early lead and never dropped behind.

Captain Bob Harrison and Mack Suprunowicz sparked Michigan's steady scoring, Harrison collecting 13 points and Suprunowicz 10.

Purdue Threatens

Michigan moved to the fore in the first few minutes of play, and had piled up a 28 to 20 lead at halftime. The margin increased as the third quarter ticked away, and it was not until the final period that the Boilermakers staged their only threat.

Then Purdue speeded up play a little, much to the approval of some 9,100 partisan fans who jammed the university fieldhouse. Sharp-shooting by Williams and Bill Banks cut the Wolverine margin to 40 to 35.

But Harrison got the ball and sank a free throw, and Michigan took charge until the final whistle.

The Wolverines, who have eight victories and two losses, play their two remaining games at Ann Arbor. Iowa, now a full game behind in the race with seven wins and three defeats, entertains Minnesota Saturday before journeying to Michigan for the season's finale Monday.

Buckeyes Improve

Ohio State's sophomore quintet, one of the most rapidly improving teams in the conference, moved into a tie with Purdue for fifth place last night by blasting Indiana 60-45. The Buckeyes' Dick Schnitzler popped in 26 points to fortify his third place spot in the individual scoring race with a 17.9 average through 11 games.

Iowa's Murray Wier is leading the pack with 230 points in 10 contests Minnesota's Jim McIntyre is second with 211 after slumping off from a high average of 27 per game.

In the only other league game last night, Wisconsin downed Northwestern 49-54 to keep alive slim hopes of retaining the Big Nine crown.

Los Angeles Dons Beckon to Crisler

Los Angeles, Calif., Feb. 24 (AP)—Professional football, which has lured several top coaches out of collegiate ranks in recent months, beckoned today to Michigan's Fritz Crisler.

General Manager Harry Thayer of the Los Angeles Dons announced the Wolverine mentor could "write his own ticket" if he would become coach of the All-America league club.

He indicated the Michigan coach would get more than $50,000 a year, but declined to set a maximum figure.

There was no immediate comment from Crisler.

O'Connor 5 Points Up On Max Bentley

Montreal, Feb. 24 (AP)—Buddy O'Connor continues to head the National Hockey league's individual parade.

The slim center of the New York Rangers has collected 22 goals and 29 assists for 51 points. He enjoys a five point margin over Max Bentley, center of the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Another pivot artist, Elmer Lach of the Montreal Canadiens is third with 45 points while Rookie Jim Mc Fadden of Detroit and hard-shooting Bud Poile of Chicago are tied for fourth place at 43 points each.

Hawks To Practice Tonight For Gladstone, Marquette Invasions Thursday, Sunday

The Escanaba Hawks will hit the practice ice at the indoor rink here tonight in preparation for two games that promise to be as fast, furious and closely fought as any game of the season to date—the clash with the Gladstone Indians Thursday night and the melee with the Marquette Loons Sunday afternoon. Both games will be played in Escanaba.

After being upset by the Newberry Bunyans in a bangup game here last Sunday afternoon, the Hawks are out to avenge that defeat by toppling the third-place Gladstone sextet and the league-leading Marquette six.

A pattern of practice has been laid out by Coach Babs Petaja for a gruelling two-hour workout tonight, beginning at 8 o'clock, in hopes of ironing out some of the kinks uncovered in the Newberry battle.

Victories over Gladstone and Marquette would help considerably to erase memories of previous losses to those two sextets and to wind up the season as a success. It also would put the Hawks in winning stride for the Upper Michigan Amateur Hockey league playoffs to follow. The Marquette-Escanaba game here next Sunday afternoon is the last league game of the season.

And such victories are not at all improbable. The Hawks whipped Gladstone twice in warmup tilts, and twice they came within an ace of defeating Marquette. Once at the Palestra, they spotted Marquette four goals in the first few minutes of play and then outplayed them the rest of the game to wind up on the short end of a 4-2 count, and in the return game here, they had a 2-1 lead over Marquette going into the third period only to lose out by 3-2.

Tonight's workout is expected to put the Hawks "in the pink" for the two home games against Gladstone and Marquette.

Hardwares Practice Tonight; Play At 'Stique Tomorrow

In preparation for the stretch drive in the Northern Wisconsin Michigan Basketball league, the Delta Hardwares will practice at the junior high school gym tonight, battle the fast Manistique Merchants in Manistique tomorrow night and be host to the Munising Oilers, Rainbow league pacesetters, Friday night.

That constitutes a busy schedule, but Coach Arnold "Dopey" Johnson plans to keep his capable cagers in prime condition in their quest for the NWM championship. All players are required to participate in tonight's practice session, he said this morning.

Had he searched the Upper Peninsula far and wide, he could not have found two opponents outside the NWM more potent than the Manistique Merchants and Munising Oilers. With Dick Berger on fire, the Merchants recently beat the Hermansville Silver Foxes twice—once in Hermansville, which is no small feat.

Speaking of the Foxes, all this Hardware work this week is aimed at a clash in the junior high gym here next Tuesday evening between the Hardwares and Silver Foxes. One of three losses sustained by the Escanabans was at the hands of Hermansville in Hermansville, and Coach Johnson is very anxious to erase that.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS
The City of Escanaba proposes to sell to the highest bidder a strip of land 210 feet wide running south from the Danforth Road and parallel with the west boundary of the U. P. Fair Grounds, and running from the Danforth Road to the South line of the Southwest Quarter of the Southeast Quarter (SW1/4 of SE1/4) of Section 24. Said land comprises five acres more or less.

The minimum price to be received for said land, as fixed by the City Council, is One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars per acre. The purchaser of said land must construct a building and improve the land within a period of six months from date of purchase.

Bidders to bid the price they are willing to pay, and bids must be filed with the undersigned up to 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, February 25, 1948.

The Council reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

AUTO DRIVERS ARE CAUTIONED Must Yield To Police, Fire, Ambulance And Funeral Cars

Motorists are required by state law to yield the right of way to ambulances, police and fire department vehicles when such vehicles are on official business and are sounding their sirens. Chief of Police M. E. Ettenhofer emphasized this morning.

Ettenhofer reported that a number of complaints have been received lately that motorists have not yielded the right of way to fire trucks responding to fire calls.

The law provides that vehicles must drive to the curb and stop until fire, police and ambulances have passed, Ettenhofer said. It is also illegal to follow within 500 feet of fire apparatus or to park within 500 feet of the fire trucks when they reach the scene of a fire. The law also prohibits motorists from driving over fire hose laid at the scene of a fire without the consent of the fire department official in command.

Funeral processions properly displaying funeral flags are also given special protection under the law. Motorists are not permitted to pass through funeral processions.

All violations are classified as misdemeanors.

Atty. John Tyrrell, Former Escanaban, Claimed By Death

Attorney John Stanley Tyrrell, a former Escanaba resident and a University of Michigan alumnus, died Friday in Marine hospital, Seattle, Wash., of pneumonia. It was learned here by his sister, Mrs. Adele Drake, 616 South 10th street.

The body will be brought to Escanaba and will be taken to the Alto funeral home. Funeral arrangements are incomplete. Services will be conducted at the Marine hospital tonight.

Tyrrell practiced law in Seattle for the past 35 years. He was born in Escanaba, March 25, 1883. He is a veteran of World War I and a member of the Fraternal Order of Masons.

Survivors, in addition to his sister, are a daughter, Eleanor Anderson, in California, and a brother Harry E. Tyrrell, in Whitefish, Mont.

Democrat Leaders Advised That Dixie Is Not 'In The Bag'

BY JACK BELL
Washington, Feb. 24 (AP)—The civil rights war within Democratic ranks raged unabated today, fired by a new attack of southern governors on the party's high command.

Four Dixie governors, fresh from a meeting with National Chairman J. Howard McGrath, promised to use "whatever means are necessary" to block President Truman's race equality program.

As a clear indication of what they have in mind, the four declared in a formal statement:

DAPPER MEYERS ON TRIAL AGAIN

Retired General Faces Charges Of Covering Up Shady Deals

Washington, Feb. 24 (AP)—A federal jury was selected quickly today for the trial of retired Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers on the first of three criminal charges.

As the trial began, the government indicated Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) might be called to testify against Meyers, who was the No. 2 purchasing agent for the Army Air Forces during the war.

Ferguson headed a Senate committee which investigated Meyers' business activities while he held the air force post. The general is accused in the present case of inducing a business associate to lie to the Senators about his financial deals.

Blieriot H. LaMarre already has pleaded guilty to charges that Meyers persuaded him to tell the Senate war investigating committee a fake story last year. LaMarre later gave a different version and said it was the truth.

Employed recently as an attendant at a Dayton, O., filling station, LaMarre is due to be a principal witness against the 52-year-old retired general. Mrs. LaMarre, who has denied Meyers' claim that she once was his "girl friend," also is to testify.

The case grew out of testimony that Meyers obtained more than $150,000 profit from the Aviation Electric company, a Dayton plane parts firm, while a leading purchaser for the AAF.

LaMarre, 35, self-styled "dummy" president of the concern, told the Senate committee Meyers owned it and made him "kick back" all but $3,000 of his $31,000 annual salary.

Senator Taft Hopes He Can Make More Michigan Friends

Detroit, Feb. 24 (AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft, back in his Washington office, left an impression today that he'd like to be at least second in the affections of Michigan Republicans.

The Ohio aspirant of the GOP presidential nomination came here yesterday to denounce the Democratic administration's foreign policy in both Europe and the Far East.

Throughout his appearances he diplomatically conceded the state's "favorite son" rating to Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, who has said he is not a candidate.

At a press conference in a local hotel's "presidential suite," Taft was asked whether he was "bidding for second place" behind Vandenberg for Michigan's delegation to the Republican National convention.

"You don't bid for second place," the Ohioan tactfully replied. "All you do when you come into a state like this is try to make as many friends as possible."

DIES OF EXCITEMENT

Chelsea (AP) — A heart attack suffered during the excitement of a minor fire at her home caused the death Monday of Mrs. Mina Wiseman, 57.

In 1929, the attorney general of the United States was paid $1,500 a year and he was expected to provide his own office, fuel, stationery and clerk.

First all-aluminum bridge was constructed across the Grasse river at Masseni, N. Y. The bridge weighed 53,000 pounds.

early sales around steady; two loads good and choice around 108 lb. shorn lambs with No. 1 pelts $20.00; load of mostly good grade woolled lambs $21.50; medium and good $18.00 to $20.50; holding bulk good and choice woolled lambs around $22.00; weights today on large number of woolskins desirable; ewe and yearlings very scarce.

KOREA ELECTION PUSHED BY U. S.

United Nations Urged To Order Vote, Ignore Russian Boycott

BY LARRY HAUCK
Lake Success, Feb. 24 (AP)—The United States urged the United Nations today to ignore a Russian boycott and start nationwide elections in divided Korea.

Dr. Philip C. Jessup, deputy American delegate, told the little assembly that it was incumbent upon the U. N. Korean commission to proceed "quickly and comprehensively" to allow the Korean people to elect a national assembly.

Jessup said the Soviet policy of non-cooperation should not be allowed to block the U. N. program for establishing a free and independent Korea. He even expressed hope that Russia might relent and allow the U. N. to conduct balloting in the Soviet zone as directed by the general assembly.

Russia has boycotted the commission sent into Korea and refused to allow its members in Soviet-controlled areas. No Russian delegate heard Jessup's speech because the Soviet Union and five satellites also are boycotting the little assembly.

Two-thirds of the Koreans live in the southern zone, occupied by the United States. The country was divided for occupation purposes after the defeat of Japan. The area north of the 38th parallel was assigned to Russia.

Calling for U. N.-observed elections starting in the southern zone and working northward, Jessup said:

"If it should unhappily prove to be the case that they 'the Commission' could not continue with the observation of elections north of the 38th parallel due to the opposition of the Soviet authorities, the result would nevertheless be that two-thirds of the Korean people would have elected their proportional share of the members of the Korean National assembly."

"One-third of the Korean people would have been denied the opportunity to seat their representatives in that assembly. The Korean people and all the world would know who had denied them that opportunity. A Korean National assembly would exist. Not all of its seats might be filled but it would exist."

hill battle. Long led him by 120,000 votes in a preliminary election Jan. 20 when he polled more than 41 1/2 percent of the total vote. He missed a majority by $109,400 ballots and the second primary campaign has been directed largely at the 229,323 voters who supported the two eliminated office-seekers — Judge Robert F. Kennon and U. S. Rep. Jimmy Morrison.

Long forecast a triumph by 200,000 votes. Jones said it would be close, but predicted he would win.

The campaign was enlivened by charges of income tax fraud. In Washington a rules committee recommended an investigation but action by the House in advance of today's election was blocked.

Both Long and Jones made public figures which they said represented their tax returns for several years.

Polls, opening at 6 a. m. (CST), were to close at 7 p. m. except in New Orleans and Baton Rouge, where they will remain open until 9.

Mrs. Luedeman, 50, Of Munising, Dies; Was Ill 4 Years

Munising, Feb. 24 — Mrs. Charles Luedeman, 50, resident of Munising for the past 24 years, died this morning at 8:30 o'clock at the Newberry state hospital. She had been ill for the past four years.

Mrs. Luedeman was born in Luther, Lake county, Michigan August 2, 1897. She came to Munising from Muskegon.

She is survived by her husband, Charles, a son, Leo, of Munising; two daughters, Mrs. James Taylor, Munising, and Mrs. James Worthing, Muskegon; two brothers, Ernest Schultz, Munising, and Lew Schultz, Marquette; and a sister, Mrs. Elgin Hilton, Newaygo, Mich.

The body will lie in state at the Beaulieu funeral parlor until Thursday at two p. m., when services will be held at the Beaulieu chapel. Rev. Frederick Steen will officiate and interment will be made in Maple Grove vault.

OTTO MILLER, 79, Dies in Gladstone

Gladstone, Feb. 24—Otto Miller, 79, a resident of Gladstone for many years, died in St. Francis hospital, Escanaba, at 1 this morning. He had been hospitalized two days.

Mr. Miller was employed as barn boss at the Bay de Noquet Lumber company. He roomed at 17 North 9th street in Gladstone.

There are no survivors in this area, as far as is known. The body will be shipped to Oakfield, Wis., for burial. He was taken to the Skradski funeral home.

Obituary

PATRICK TOLAN
Graveside services will be held at Holy Cross cemetery Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock for Patrick Tolan, of Milwaukee, former resident of Escanaba, who died Sunday. Father, Martin B. Melican of St. Patrick's church will conduct the rites. The body of Mr. Tolan will be brought to Escanaba tonight, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Max Baerke, and will be taken to the Alto funeral home.

Old Fascist Linked With Van Wagoner Bu German Critics

Berlin, Feb. 24 (AP)—Several German newspapers sharply criticized today the presence of Adm. Nicholas Horthy, former regent of Hungary, as guest at an American wedding in Bavaria Sunday.

Horthy was invited to the wedding of Miss Wilhelmina Busch, 64-year-old heiress to a St. Louis, Mo., beer fortune, and Sam Woods, American consul in Munich.

Other guests included Prince Albrecht, oldest son of the pretender to the vanished Bavarian throne; Prince Rupprecht, and Murray D. Van Wagoner, director of the American Office of Military Government for Bavaria.

Martin Sigfrid, 71, Of Stonington, Dies After Long Illness

Gladstone, Feb. 24—Martin Sigfrid, 71, who formerly resided in Gladstone for 24 years, died at 10 Monday night at his farm home in Stonington after an illness of one year.

Mr. Sigfrid, for many years a resident of Stonington, was actively engaged there as a farmer until he became ill about a year ago. He was born in Oravias, Finland, and came to the United States at the age of 17.

He leaves his wife, four daughters, Mrs. Gunnar Holmberg, Kipling; Mrs. Elmer Nicholson, Escanaba; Mrs. Ralph Roberts, Chicago; Mrs. Nancy Caspar, Chicago; four sons, Ragnar and Conrad, of Chicago, and Bertil and Marvin, of Stonington; a sister, Mrs. Isaac Hagman, of Flat Rock, and another sister residing in Finland.

Mr. Sigfrid was affiliated with the First Baptist church. The body was taken to Kelley's funeral home, and it is planned to conduct funeral services Thursday afternoon.
